MAYOR GAYNOR DIES FROM HEART FAILURE ON STEAMER WHILE CROSSING ATLANTIC WEDNESDAY

Enemy of Tammany Hall Removed by Death From Political Arena of American Metropolis; Was Placed at Head of Independent Ticket

Politicians Believe November Contest for Chief Office in City
Will Now Be Contested Between Fusionist and Democratic Candidates

New York, Sept. 11.—Mayor Gaynor died on the steamer Baltic in mid-ocean at 1 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, according to a cablegram received here to-day from Rufus W. Gaynor, his son. News of his death was received here in a message by wireless and cable to Robert Adamson, his secretary, by Rufus W. Gaynor, who sailed with him.

The message read as follows: "Father died Wednesday at 1 o'clock due to heart failure."
Mayor Gaynor sailed from New York, a fast-falling man, on the morning of September 4. An hour before he sailed only one man, his secretary, outside of members of his immediate family, knew his plans. The mayor's announced purpose was a brief vacation on the ocean. He felt that the tonic effect of the salt air would restore him in some measure to health.

Chosen by Independents
The Baltic is due at Queenstown to-day. The mayor died as he was nearing the other side. The news of his death was sent from Queenstown to Rufus W. Gaynor and relayed from Cuxhaven to New York by cable.

Mayor Gaynor left New York at a time when the city was seething in one of the strangest municipal political campaigns in its history. The day before his departure he was notified on the city hall steps by representatives of independent political organizations that he had been chosen as their standard-bearer in the mayoralty campaign. A throng that crowded city hall park assembled to hear him accept. He had prepared a speech of acceptance, but as so weak that he was unable to deliver it and his secretary read it for him, the mayor standing beside him. Before the mayor sailed his secretary issued a statement denying reports of the mayor's serious illness.

Old Trouble Disappeared

The recent attack of the old throat trouble, due to the wound inflicted on August 19, 1910, by James Gallagher, just as the mayor was about to leave this city for a brief vacation in Europe, had entirely disappeared, according to Mr. Adamson, and Mr. Gaynor expected to return and enter the campaign with his old-time vigor. The bullet that lodged in his throat three years ago had never been removed. Just before leaving the mayor spoke of his condition as follows: "I have been nearly four years mayor and have not yet had any vacation. I suppose almost everybody will concede that I may have one now. I have been ill a few days but occasionally have from my misadventure a few years ago, but I am now over and hope I never shall have another."

To Attack Tammany Hall.

He was expected to attack Tammany Hall sharply, politically, as soon as he returned to the city. Before his departure he issued a characteristic statement, levelled at Tammany Hall leaders and other political opponents.

HANDS ACROSS BORDER AT ERIE ANNIVERSARY

Peace Greatest Force for Civilization
Says Rhode Island
Governor.

Cedar Point, Sept. 11.—Hands were clasped figuratively across the line separating the United States and Canada, and a continuation of the century of peace that has elapsed since the signing of the treaty of Ghent was predicted here last night by speakers at the banquet which brought to-day's celebration of the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Lake Erie to a close.

"The baptism of war through which the nation passed in its struggle to gain a foothold happily is over," said Governor Fothergill, of Rhode Island. "To-day the English-speaking races are enjoying peace. They should be the greatest force for civilization and amity among the nations of the globe. Should the time come when such instances must be enforced, when we are called upon to defend our standards and our civilization on this continent—let us find the United States and Canada standing solidly together, prepared to protect our shores from invasion from whatever quarter, and our institutions from assault."

YOUTH IS HANGED.

Fayetteville, Ark., Sept. 11.—Omar Davis, eighteen, was hanged here to-day for the murder of Miss Nellie Montgomery, his school teacher. He went to the scaffold protesting his innocence.

PROTESTS OF LAWYERS ARE NOT DISTURBING

Colebrook People Take an Interest in the Matteawan Fugitive To-day

SAFER IN JAIL THAN OUT IS LEGAL OPINION

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—The protests which have been made by the Canadian counsel for Harry K. Thaw and members of the Thaw family because of the expeditionary way in which he was bundled out of Canada yesterday, are not in the least degree disturbing to the interior or the officials of the immigration branch of the department. They fully expected an outcry, and realized that if their plan to ship Thaw over the border had not been kept a secret steps would have been taken by the Thaw forces to frustrate it. The assertion that the Ottawa officials have been guilty of contempt of court because they ignored the writ of habeas corpus and prohibited him is not taken seriously.

The acting minister of the interior maintains that no order had been issued by any court which could in any way interfere with his right to confirm the decision of the immigration board of inquiry that Thaw, being an undesirable must be sent out of the country. The writ issued by the lower courts, it is explained, were directed against subordinates and no effect was made to restrain on the part of the minister, who under the terms of the immigration act is given mandatory powers. Next Monday when the case comes up in Montreal the immigration department will be represented by counsel, and it will be explained why it is impossible to comply with the demand for the production of Thaw. Otherwise the officials consider the case to be a closed chapter in the immigration records of the country, and they now hope to be able to turn their attention to the regular business of the department.

Colebrook, N. H., Sept. 11.—Harry K. Thaw arose late this morning after spending the night in a hotel room under guard. Lawyers kept him up until a late hour, laying plans to resist extradition to New York.

In another part of the hotel, William Travers Jerome, deputized to get the fugitive back to Matteawan, conferred with Thaw's most recent captor, Sheriff Drew. Thaw was arrested on a complaint charging him with conspiracy in connection with his escape from the asylum, and it was on this charge that he was to be arraigned to-day.

The Thaw lawyers took preliminary steps to swear out a writ of habeas corpus in the prisoner's behalf. It was said this morning that they might not press this further, as they considered their client safer as a prisoner than at large.

Thaw retired before midnight, and far from objecting to the presence of Deputy Sheriff Burley H. Kolesa, insisted that other guards, too, sit near the door. Two armed deputies dozed in rocking chairs just outside the room. The door was left ajar and a light was kept burning in the hall all night. Thaw was fearful of what he called "strong-arm work." Jerome's presence filled him with fury. Thaw's arraignment in court was delayed.

Montreal, Sept. 11.—Mrs. Mary Corley Thaw collapsed when informed that her son had been recaptured. When news arrived that Thaw was again in the hands of the authorities at Colebrook, N. H., Mrs. Thaw became unconscious and a doctor was summoned. When she recovered consciousness her condition was so grave that a trained nurse was employed to watch her constantly.

TO HOLD NAVAL DEFENCE
CONFERENCE IN NOVEMBER

Proposal to Discuss Defence of Pacific Made by Chamber of Commerce in India.

London, Sept. 11.—The Manchester Guardian, usually a well-informed government organ, says to-day that it understands arrangements are being made to hold a subsidiary naval defence conference in November. It will be attended by the premiers and other ministers of the self-governing Dominions, and will differ from previous conferences in that the question of accepting assistance from India and other eastern colonies in providing a force for the defence of the Pacific will be taken up.

This proposal has emanated from the Chamber of Commerce in India. One of the most important questions to be considered relates to unity of action between local and Imperial fleets.

DEMANDS OF JAPAN ARE AN ULTIMATUM

Fanatic Attempts Suicide in Offices of Japanese Foreign Minister

APPOINTMENT OF ABE
EVOCKED CRITICISM

Peking, Sept. 11.—Japan's demands growing out of the killing of several Japanese at Nanking were presented to-day to the Chinese government. Though full details were not available, sufficient information was obtained to show that the demands were tantamount to an ultimatum.

An apology, an indemnity and the punishment of the guilty soldiers at Nanking are demanded, and the Chinese are required to accept the terms without delay and without any bartering.

At the Japanese legation here it was said that the demands of the Japanese government were moderate and that in view of their reasonableness and the public excitement prevalent in Japan any undue procrastination or unjustified obstinacy on the part of the Chinese government could not be tolerated.

It was stated at the Chinese foreign office that the Japanese note had been turned over to Provisional President Yuan Shi Kai, who with other Chinese officials, was considering it.

Tokio, Sept. 11.—The offices of Baron Makino, the minister of foreign affairs, were this scene to-day of a revolting act when the fanatic attempted to suicide there by the old samurai method of harakari.

A strange man had called at the office to see the foreign minister, but he was unsuccessful in gaining audience with Baron Makino.

When he was told by the Baron's secretary that admittance would be denied him, he fell down on the floor of the outer office, drew a sword, which he had concealed beneath his kimono, and plunged it into his abdomen.

The posthumous appointment as minister to Belgium of Director Moriarty Abe, of the Japanese foreign office, who died September 4 of stab wounds, evoked considerable criticism from to-day's Tokio newspapers.

DEATH CONFIRMED OF
RADFORD AND STREET

Official Reports Received From Fullerton and Fort Churchill by Mounted Police.

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—Official reports from Fullerton and Fort Churchill received to-day by Comptroller Porteus, of the Mounted Police, further confirm the report of the death of H. J. Radford and Geo. Street at the hands of Eskimos near Bathurst Inlet. One report is signed by F. J. A. Demers, superintendent commanding M. division. The information was gathered by Sergeant Edgerton. The second report is a copy of a letter received at York House by C. E. Bay, manager of the Hudson's Bay Company, Fort Nelson, from H. H. Hall, manager at Chesterfield Inlet.

According to the first report Mr. Radford and his partner left Kah Mucks on Schultz lake on March 27, 1912, with three Eskimos and 22 dogs. They intended travelling towards Bathurst Inlet with Dawson city as their destination. The Eskimo guide stated that the party arrived safely at Bathurst Inlet and camped for the summer. They were there when he left later on.

While the guide was out hunting, he met a party of Eskimos who told him that Radford and Street had been killed. The cause of this was some trouble between Street and the dog driver. All preparations for the start had been made when the dog driver refused to go. Mr. Street took the dog whip and started to whip him. It is supposed that Mr. Radford went to stop him, but the native overpowered him and drove a spear through his back.

Mr. Street started to run towards the sled, evidently to get his rifle, when he was killed in the same way. Akual, the guide, and his party were threatened with death if they informed.

COURT AGAINST SULZER.

Kingston, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Justice Hendrueck of the supreme court of the state decided to-day that Governor Sulzer was regularly impeached and while awaiting impeachment trial was deprived of the right to exercise his executive functions, including the power to pardon.

CANADIAN WHEAT CROP WILL NET FARMERS $170,000,000

System of Grain Storage Advocated by President of Winnipeg
Grain Exchange Would Enhance value of Harvest to Growers; Wheat From Prairie Provinces This Year
Will Aggregate Two Hundred Million Bushels

Winnipeg, Sept. 11.—That the Canadian wheat crop for 1913, now practically harvested, will net the farmers of the Dominion $170,000,000 on the present market prices, was the statement made yesterday by Andrew Kelly, retiring president, speaking at the annual meeting of the Grain Exchange. Mr. Kelly estimated the wheat crop to be well over 200,000,000 bushels, that oats would be the same as last year, and that barley would be 32,999,000 bushels, and flax about 15,000,000 bushels.

The president advocated the storage by farmers of fifty per cent. of the crop. Towards this end he urged that the government should go a step further than the terminal elevator plan, and introduce a system by which farmers could store grain. If the course suggested were pursued, he said, it would save elevator and railway blockages and give the farmer a larger price because the crop could be distributed over a longer period.

FROST TOO LATE TO DO MATERIAL DAMAGE

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 11.—Frosts were pretty general last night over Alberta and Saskatchewan and the northern part of Manitoba. Low point recorded being Edmonton with ten degrees, but from one to four degrees was the extent in most districts affected.

With harvesting practically completed and threshing in full swing all over the country, the frost has come too late to do any material damage. If any farmer has not his wheat in stock by now it is his own fault, conditions could not be better for threshing.

The country roads are in good shape for marketing.

SASKATCHEWAN CROPS
MOVING IN ADVANCE

Regina, Sask., Sept. 11.—Threshing in this district is now general excepting along the C. P. R. between York and Langan, and farmers have a lot of machines in operation. Applications are being received by the department of agriculture for many harvesters, and A. F. Manlio, deputy minister, states that the movement of crops this year was three weeks to a month earlier than last year.

If the present favorable weather continues he declares the grain will be all harvested before winter sets in. There was a slight frost last night. The first load of grain harvested this year is expected to reach the local market to-day.

ZAMACONA GOES TO NEW YORK FOR LOAN

Huerta's Supposed Representative
Visits Mexican Embassy at Washington.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11.—Manuel Zamacoma, supposed representative of President Huerta of Mexico, left to-day for New York, without seeing any government officials. He did not seek an interview with anyone but spent all his time with Charge Alcala, of the Mexican embassy. The latter was expected to confer to-day with Secretary Bryan and may inform Mr. Bryan of the character of the Zamacoma mission.

The attitude of President Wilson and Secretary Bryan is not to receive any of Huerta's envoys unless they come to carry forward the negotiations begun by Mr. Lind and with the understanding that the points mentioned by Mr. Lind have been settled, chiefly that Huerta is to be considered as eliminated from the presidential race.

Senior Zamacoma was in concealment during his visit here and left secretly and is expected to return in a few days, but while in New York will endeavor to negotiate a loan.

MESSANGER OF BANK IS ROBBED IN DAYLIGHT

Cheques and Currency Amounting to $14,800 Taken by Men Who Escaped in Automobile.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Four daring robbers to-day seized a satchel containing $4,800 in currency and $14,000 in cheques from Warrington McAvoy, 18 years old, a messenger of the Garfield Park State Savings Bank, and escaped by driving away in an automobile. The robbery occurred on the sidewalk in front of the bank at West Madison street and North Fortieth avenue, without the display of a revolver. McAvoy had stepped out of the bank with the money and cheques in a small satchel and was waiting for a street car when an automobile containing four men drove up. Two of them jumped out, walked over to where the bank messenger was standing and one stepped behind him and touched him on the shoulder. When McAvoy turned his head, the second robber seized the satchel containing the money and cheques. The two men jumped into the waiting machine and were driven away.

BENDS JAIL BARS AND ESCAPES FROM PRISON

San Francisco, Sept. 11.—John Borden, Spanish war veteran and former resident of Sacramento, who escaped from a jail room three stories above the streets at the postoffice building to-day is the object of a city-wide search that has proved fruitless.

It was while waiting to have his case, charging forgery of a cheque called that he bent back the iron bars in the jail room window and then made his way to liberty over the dizzy footing of an eight-inch ledge high above Seventh street.

CITIES HAVE SPENT MONEY TOO FREELY

Sir Edmund Oslen Says Municipalities Should Proceed
More Slowly

ALL NEEDED WILL COME
SAYS SIR WILLIAM WHYTE

H. S. Holt Finds Business Conditions Sound From Coast to Coast

C. P. R. PARTY LEAVES
TO-DAY FOR MAINLAND

A grave warning against city extravagance was uttered this morning by Sir Edmund Oslen, president of the Dominion Bank and vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway. In an interview with the Times, he said: "There is no doubt at all that we are spending too much money these days and that is the fundamental cause of the stringency. The cities throughout the Dominion have become too extravagant."

"For instance, here in Victoria you have been spending enough money for a city with a population of 400,000, and now you have to pay the piper. You are not alone in this respect. It is exactly the same in the east, and there is no wonder at all to me that there is such tightness of cash as is at present being experienced."

"The improvements have raised the tax rates. The fact is that they are all trying to do too much in a short time. They are attempting too much construction work, expensive road making, water systems, elaborate and expensive street lighting schemes. The cities should go more slowly."

Sir Edmund's poor-pooped the suggestion that the business slackness is being felt only in those ventures which are of a speculative nature.

"Nothing of the kind," he remarked. "The depression is universal throughout Canada, both here in the West and back in the East."

Sir Edmund is also of the opinion that the recent protracted trouble in the Balkans caused a tightening of the purse strings throughout the civilized world.

Would Not Speak.

R. B. Angus, president of the Bank of Montreal, who is perhaps better fitted than any man in Canada to give an opinion on the financial situation, refused to say anything on the matter. In this he said he was complying with a custom that he had always kept of keeping silent about such matters.

The president of another bank, J. S. Holt, of the Royal Bank, has great faith in the future of Canada, and further believes that even at the present moment that faith is justified by the progress which is being made. Contrary to Sir Edmund Oslen, he believes that business conditions are sound from coast to coast.

"The only trouble is, he said in an interview, 'that we have been going too fast, and the present steadying down will enable the people to get their wind and shape up matters for another period of increased confidence and general prosperity.'

Harvest Will Help.

Sir William Whyte is very optimistic, and thinks that the harvesting of the great prairie grain crop two weeks in advance of last year will have a very beneficial effect on trade, because it means putting a huge amount of money into immediate circulation. He also thought this factor would be a great one in getting the grain through to Montreal before the St. Lawrence channel closes for the season.

Sir William is of the opinion that the question of shipping prairie grain from the Pacific coast is largely if not solely a matter of rates. There was no sentiment in business, and if grain could be sent just as cheaply westward as it was sent eastward, it would be sent. The danger of grain heating while passing through the tropics he believed could be averted by proper bagging of the grain. On the subject of immigration, Sir William expressed himself of the opinion that though there had been a slight falling off in the influx from the United States, there had most certainly been no diminution in the immigration from the old country. Of the number who came here from the old country over twenty-five per cent. went on the land right away, and thus became an immediate source of production.

Several Causes.

Sir William is an optimist over the financial and business situation in Canada. He attributes the financial stringency chiefly to the European situation, and the great industrial expansion going on in Great Britain. With the clearing up of the various troubles throughout the world he sees no reason why money should not flow in abundance in sufficient quantities to supply all its needs.

That the farming of Canada is not diversified enough is another asseveration of the well-known knight. Canada has specialized in grain, and in that regard she has shown the world.

IMPROVEMENT PLANS FOR WINNIPEG CITY

To Construct Mall, Continue Osborne Street and Open Other Thoroughfares

(Special Correspondence.)
Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 11.—The construction of a mall to be called the Capitol Approach, 100 feet wide from Portage avenue, due south to the central entrance to the three million dollar provincial parliament building now under construction; the continuation of Osborne street north from Broadway to Portage avenue; the closing of several streets, particularly that part of Colony street between Portage and St. Mary's avenues, and the opening of two new east and west streets, are features of a by-law which will receive consideration of the city council on September 12. This by-law is the result of two years' work inaugurated by the town planning commission and represents the most ambitious city improvement so far undertaken by Winnipeg. According to all information, the scheme will go through. It involves a big capital turnover, as though there is a big piece of property to be acquired, options for which have largely been obtained, much of it can again be put on the market at greatly enhanced values. For instance, the Portage avenue entrance to the mall will be right through the block contained between Colony and Vaughan streets, acquired two years ago by the Hudson's Bay Company for their new store, at a cost of a million dollars. It is understood that the company will accept in exchange Portage avenue frontage contained between the new mall and the extension of Colony street.

GREAT CONTRACTING FIRM WINDING UP

Famous House of John Aird & Co. Will Take No More Contracts

(Special Correspondence.)
London, Aug. 30.—The great firm of John Aird & Co. will soon cease to exist. Already this great contracting house has declined to enter into further contract and it is concentrating now merely on finishing the small amount of work which it has on hand. The history of Messrs. Aird is wrapped up with the growth and development, not only of the British empire, but of almost all other countries in the world during the last eighty years. The firm has been in existence under various titles but has always been engaged in works of the greatest character. As John Aird & Co. it played an enormous part in the construction of railways for many years, both in England and Italy and elsewhere. Its chief rivals at this time being the firm of Lucas.

After this first phase of activity, the two firms amalgamated under the title of Lucas & Aird and together were responsible for the construction of dock works and harbor works all over the empire, in South America and other places, being associated with many of the leading engineers of the latter half of last century. Their greatest and most wonderful work undoubtedly was the damming of the Nile, which was undertaken at a time when all the members of the Lucas family had retired, and the last extension of which has just been finished to the great fortune of the Egyptian cotton crop, the raised top being completed just in time for the rainfall.

There is no name so well known in the world of contracting as that of Aird and there is no name so well known in the dominions. Lately, however, as have people in other businesses, Messrs. Airds have had to face severe competition, while on the death of Sir John Aird in 1911 the control of the firm naturally underwent a change. Apparently the present situation is not satisfactory to the business. Recently it will be remembered it was concerned in one of the most famous law cases of all time—the case of Messrs. Aird versus the Tanjong Pagar Dock Board, or really the Straits Settlement government. This trial was easily the most expensive of its kind, and though the verdict was eminently satisfactory to the contracting firm there is reason to believe that they were not exactly pleased with the settlement. This is not the only legal dispute which has bothered the firm of recent years, for in 1908 it lodged a claim in respect of the Avonmouth dock, which they constructed. This claim the dock company fought on the ground that as a clause in the contract provided for the engineer acting as arbitrator in the event of dispute the action should be stayed. Messrs. Airds won their application before the Master in Chambers, before the judge in the court of appeal, in the House of Lords, so this case which should by now be closed, is still being fought on. It is quite possible that this experience of the law's vexations has had something to do with the decision of Sir John Aird to go out of business. He is a very wealthy man and doubtless realizes that while the risks which a contractor must take are as great as ever the profits are not so huge as they were twenty or thirty years ago.

Several of the responsible men of the firm have already left, Mr. Powell having retired two months ago, various of the contracts for the firm finishing last June. Between now and next March all outstanding contracts save one will be completed and this latter will be finished in September, after which the Aird firm will cease to exist in any form whatsoever. The famous offices in Queen Anne's Gate will be given up, as will also the fine old house which the firm have in their yard on the south side of the Thames between Hungerford and Westminster Bridges, though it is possible that for the purpose of dealing with the estate, which is very large, rooms will be taken in St. James's street. The disappearance of this firm makes a landmark in the world's contracting history. It may give some idea of the hugeness of its business when it is mentioned that for many years its outgoings were £10,000 a day.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try It! Your Hair Gets Soft, Fluffy and Luxuriant at Once.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots become flaccid, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of whether else advertised, that if you use of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp—and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

CANADIAN MUNICIPAL LOANS LOOKING UP

London and the Mexican Situation; International Gathering of Financiers in Paris

(Special Correspondence.)
London, Aug. 30.—As we anticipated the Mexican trouble appears to be clearing up, but at the same time it would appear that the Turkish financial question will become more acute as the days go on. It is not too much to say that the money market is waiting on these two countries; financiers are so nervous generally that they will do nothing until every question is cleared right up which may lead itself to trouble, and they regard both these questions as being potential of danger. Private advices received in London confirm the opinion that the condition of Mexico is much worse than is usually imagined or stated. One very important firm, which possesses very large interests in certain silver and lead mines of Mexico, have learnt that plant at their property has been destroyed, whether by Huerta's people or the Constitutionalists they do not know, and that valuable machinery which they sent to their mines weeks ago, has never arrived, and is apparently lost. It is very evident that Huerta has no hold on the country at all, and it is to be hoped that President Wilson will not allow this man to control the election of his successor. It would be far better to appoint General Covarrubias as provisional president for the late minister to Great Britain, commanding the respect of all parties and would be acceptable to the States as well as all European countries.

Next Monday will witness an international gathering of financiers in Paris to endeavor to settle still further the lines on which certain combinations of capital shall work. It is the most important gathering of its kind which has ever been held, or rather, it would be more correct, to say three gatherings, for the business considered will be the Bagdad railway, the trans-Persian railway and wireless telegraphy. The leading French and German financiers, with a sprinkling of British bankers, will be represented at the first conference, which will also deal generally with the whole question of Asia Minor, while the Comité d'Etudes, appointed to study the question of the trans-Persian railway will consider the situation at the first session of that line. As it happens, several of the French bankers, interested in the latter project, were also concerned with the Bagdad scheme, while the presence of Lord Berrington, of Messrs. Baring, and of the Russian members of the Comité d'Etudes, will enable the proper interchange of opinions on both schemes, from the point of view of international finance. Singularly enough, members of the various groups are interested again in the international syndicate which will promote and develop the Goldschmidt system of wireless telegraphy, so advantage will be taken of their presence in Paris to consider further the arrangements whereby this system shall come under the control of British financiers, it being admitted amongst these very shrewd people that such business is better controlled in London than elsewhere, while it is important that it should be developed side by side, as it were, with their railway enterprises, which pass, in part, through savage country, where the ordinary telegraphs are not always safe. Practically what is being done in Paris next week is the establishment of a financial entente cordial, which will do more good to the money market than anything else could possibly do.

The further resolutions concerning Canadian municipal loans which are reaching the country are giving general satisfaction, and all being well, money should be available for Dominion enterprises next month. But much will depend upon Paris.

HEARINGS CONTINUE IN NANAIMO COURT

Nanaimo, Sept. 11.—Before Magistrate Simpson yesterday F. Dechene and John Barker were charged with having in their possession goods stolen by them to have been stolen from Extension homes during the rioting in that locality, accused being remanded eight days. Alex. Hunter and C. Bortolome were charged with participating in the riots at Extension on August 13 and 14, and remanded a week.

Steve Nelson, charged with intimidation of John Nelson and Enoch Francis, was remanded for one week, and court adjourned until Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

CONVICTS TO FINISH SENTENCES IN QUARRY

Seattle, Sept. 11.—Thirty convicts from Walla Walla State prison, under no restraint except their word of honor not to attempt to escape, arrived here by train, spent one night at a hotel, and yesterday boarded a steamer for Hoodport, destined for a quarry where they will work out the remainder of their terms in a quarry camp, getting out material for state roads. The convicts attracted no special attention, being dressed in ordinary clothes and looking much the same as the common run of men. Parole Officer Ludlow, who accompanied the men from Walla Walla, acted as their adviser.

POWELL IS REPORTED.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 11.—Martin H. Powell, arrested here in connection with the $271,000 bank robbery at New Westminster, lost a year's fight against extradition yesterday and was deported to Windsor, Ont., where he was turned over to the Canadian authorities who will take him to New Westminster. Powell was arrested here in July, 1912.

SALE OF LOTS AT
BRITISH COLUMBIA

SITUATED at the confluence of the Fraser and Nechaco Rivers in Central British Columbia, 450 miles northeast of Vancouver, B. C., and 467 miles east of Prince Rupert, B. C., or midway between Prince Rupert and Edmonton, Alta., on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

By reason of its central location, Prince George will be the natural distributing point for the extensive territory comprised in the Pacific Provinces of the Dominion, and it has therefore long been the expectation of the general public that upon the completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, Prince George will early become a large and important centre.

Having purchased what was known as the Fort George Indian Reserve No. 1 for the purpose of locating a townsite thereon, the Grand Trunk Pacific Development Company, Limited, has caused the same to be surveyed and platted, and will offer lots in this townsite for sale, by public auction, at Dominion Hall, Vancouver, British Columbia, commencing at 10 a.m. Wednesday, September 17, 1913, and at Edmonton, Alberta, Wednesday, September 24, 1913. Frank A. Ellis, auctioneer.

The terms of this sale will be one-quarter cash and the balance payable in one, two and three years with six per cent interest. For plans apply to Ticket Office at Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle.

EVOLUTION, DESTINY AND CONTINUITY
ARE SUPPORTED BY SIR OLIVER LODGE

Speaking Before British Association Scientist Asserts: Personality, Memory and Affection Exist Beyond Death of the Body

Birmingham, Eng., Sept. 11.—Sir Oliver Lodge delivered the inaugural address at the meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science at Central Hall last night. The hall was crowded to its capacity.

A presidential address before the British association seldom has been awaited with such eagerness on the part of the general public. The leading scientists of the world were in the audience, including Mme. Curie, the co-discoverer with her late husband of radium, and fifty other great foreign savants.

Usually such addresses are too scientific to appeal to popular taste, but it was known that Sir Oliver Lodge was to deal with the mystery of after life, and the question of the persistence of personality of after death, and avowing his belief in after life, the speaker went further than any scientist had gone towards answering a question so profoundly interesting to the mass of mankind.

The address was listened to with impressive silence, which was broken only by the murmur of half-suppressed laughter or little outbursts of applause.

Speaking on the subject of "Continuity," Sir Oliver touched upon the question of life after death. Published forecasts of the address intimated startling statements.

Sir Oliver summarized his address, and in his own words his argument was a marked feature of the present scientific era of the discovery and interest of various kinds of animism, so that the continuity seems in danger of being lost sight of.

Another tendency is toward comparative negative generalizations from a limited point of view; another is to take refuge in the vague form of statement; another is to deny the existence of anything which makes no appeal to organs of sense and no ready response to laboratory experiment.

Against these tendencies Sir Oliver argues a belief in ultimate continuity as essential to science, he regards scientific concentration as an adequate basis for philosophic generalization, he believes that obscure phenomena may be expressed, if properly faced, and points out that the non-appearance of anything perfectly uniform and omnipresent is only what should be expected, and is no argument against its real, substantial existence.

In conclusion, Sir Oliver touched upon the question of life after death. He declared his conviction that "Occurrence, as we understand it, is not limited to that association with matter by which alone they can manifest themselves here and now, and that personality persists beyond bodily death."

Sir Oliver further declared the "evidence, to my mind, goes to prove that discarnate intelligence, under certain conditions, may interact with and use the material side," and that "we may hope to attain some understanding of the nature of a larger, perhaps ethereal existence, and of the conditions regulating intercourse across the chasm."

In the course of his remarks leading up to these declarations, Sir Oliver said: "Eliminating from our view, as is always necessary, a great mass of human activity, and limiting ourselves to a scrutiny on the side of pure science alone, let us ask what, in the main, is the characteristic of the promising, though perturbing, period in which we live? Different persons would give different answers, but the answer I venture to give is: Rapid progress, combined with fundamental scepticism."

"With the realization of the production of ether waves in 1888, the discovery of the X-rays in 1895, spontaneous radio-activity in 1896, and the isolation of the electron in 1897, execution of further achievement became vivid, and novelties, experimental, theoretical and speculative, have been showered upon us ever since this century began. That is why I speak of rapid progress."

Sir Oliver explained that by fundamental scepticism he did not mean the "well-worn and almost antique theme of theological scepticism." That controversy was practically in abeyance just now.

"In physiology, conflict ranges around vitalism," he said, "in chemistry the debate concerns atomic structure, in biology the dispute is on the laws of inheritance. In economic and political science, or sociology, what is there not under discussion? In the vast group of mathematical and physical science, presence-day criticism concerns what, if I had to express it in one word I should call continuity."

"Philosophers have begun to question some of the larger generalizations of science. Not philosophers only, but scientific men also; and ancient postulates are being pulled up by the roots. In most parts of physics, simplicity had sooner or later to give place to complexity; though certainly I urge that the simple laws were true. The law is not really destroyed, but is modified through the action of a known additional cause. Hence it is in the direction of progress."

"If we had to summarize the main trend of physical controversy I should feel inclined to urge that it largely turns on the question as to which way ultimate victory lies in the fight between continuity and discontinuity."

Sir Oliver then discussed the atomic theory at length, which he said "might be explained as an invasion of matter into the unsuspected regions," and also the controversial topic of the principle of relativity.

"If that principle establishes itself," he said, "it would seem as though even time would become discontinuous and be supplied in atoms, as money is coined out in pence or centimes, instead of continuously. In which case, our customary existence will turn out to be more really continuous than the events on a cinematograph screen—while that great agent of continuity, the ether of space, will be relegated to the museum of historical curiosity."

Sir Oliver then discussed at length the difficulties that lie in experiments on the ether, and the results to date.

"The ether of space," he said, "is at least the great engine of continuity. It may be much more, for without it there could hardly be a material universe at all."

Attacking the school of arbitrary scientists who attempted to account for all things by precise scientific laws, he said:

"But if we have learned from science that evolution is real we have learned a great deal. The evolution of man is real is a doctrine of profound significance, and our efforts at social betterment are justified because we are a part of the scheme, a part that has become conscious, a part that realises, dimly at any rate, what it is doing, and what it is aiming at."

"Either we are immortal beings or we are lost. We may not know our destiny, but we must have a destiny of some sort. Those who make death as just a likely to be wrong as those who make assertions; in fact, denials are assertions thrown into negative form. Science may not be able to reveal human destiny, but it certainly should not obscure it. Things are as they are, whether we find them out or not, and if we make rash and false statements, posterity will detect us; posterity ever troubles its head about us. I am one of those who think that the methods of science are not limited in their scope as has been thought—that the psychic region can be studied and brought under law, too. Allow us anyhow to make that law. This is not the place to discuss the details, but I cannot help remembering that any utterance from this chair is no ephemeral production, for it remains to be criticized by generations whose knowledge must inevitably be fuller and wiser than our own."

"In justice to myself and my co-workers, I must not only leave on record our conviction that occurrences now regarded as occult can be examined by the methods of science, but go farther, and say that already the facts so examined have convinced me that memory and affection are not limited to that association with matter by which alone they can manifest themselves here and now—that personality persists beyond bodily death. Gradually we may hope to attain some understanding of the nature of a larger, and perhaps ethereal existence, and of conditions regulating intercourse across the chasm. A body of responsible investigators has even now landed on the treacherous, but promising, shore of a new continent."

Sir Oliver Lodge has given timely expression to his views on the ultimate unity of faith and science in this week's Christian Commonwealth.

Among a number of questions put to him was the inquiry:

"Has recent scientific investigation, particularly inquiry into the constitution of matter and the origin and nature of life, made it easier to believe in God?"

"Belief has not been made easier," was the reply, "but has been made fuller and truer and more real. For this the effect of knowledge often has 'different, even an opposite effect from superficial knowledge.'"

Asked whether he thought the world was near a demonstration of the human personality's survival after bodily death, he answered: "Yes, certainly, and that which has been in the past a matter of religious faith will become in the future a matter of scientific knowledge. I do not say that proof is crucially complete as yet, but the evidence is so exceedingly strong that only by mental contortion can its cogency be evaded. Demonstration can not be based on any single instance or any one group of facts, but it will be the cumulative result of a great mass of gradually acquired experience."

What are the assured scientific conclusions regarding psychological research? "Scientific men," was the reply, "have not universally accepted any conclusions, not even telepathy, and inasmuch as the significance of telepathy is very great and wide, opening nothing less than new volume in the history of human knowledge, some slowness in accepting it is natural and wholesome. Few people probably realize the far reaching scope of the fundamental consequence of this newly discovered human faculty. It tends to unite two states of existence and to demonstrate the transcendence of the spiritual over the material in a way which the ancient human known faculties did not."

SUIT TO DETERMINE
SPANISH BANK CONTROL

Vancouver, Sept. 11.—The solicitor-general of Canada and the attorney-general of British Columbia have crossed swords in combat over the Spanish banks, to determine which government has the jurisdiction over the property which has already been the subject of legal fights in the local courts. Yesterday a writ was filed in the Supreme court in behalf of the solicitor-general of Canada against the Ritchie Contracting Supply Company, Ltd., and Purvis E. Ritchie, claiming damages for trespass on the sandbanks, and for an injunction to restrain the firm from removing sand from the property.

RESTRICT EMIGRATION TO SETTLERS' CLASS

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—A policy of restricted emigration which will be applied to all but those who intend to settle on the land will be the guiding rule for the next six months of the Canadian immigration agents abroad. Such was the statement made this morning by J. Obed Smith, superintendent of Canadian immigration in London, who has arrived in the capital en route back to the scene of his labors after spending several weeks in western Canada. Mr. Smith is well pleased with conditions as he found them in the west and speaks optimistically of crop conditions, but he says that the state of the labor market in the cities is not such as to warrant a heavy movement of the artisan class to Canada, at least not before next spring. It will therefore be the aim of agents of the Dominion in Great Britain and the continent to do more to discourage the movement of the industrial workers to Canada than has been done at any time during the past several years. People thinking of coming to Canada to seek general employment of any kind will be advised not to do so before next spring. Mr. Smith announces that the department has decided to open a new office at Copenhagen, Denmark.

MEMORIAL FUND SLOW.

London, Sept. 11.—The General Booth memorial fund which was inaugurated soon after the death of the founder of the Salvation Army to provide a memorial in his native town of Nottingham, has been but partially successful. Towards the $90,000 required but $16,900 has been subscribed or promised.

TO VISIT ANTARCTIC.

London, Sept. 11.—J. Foster Stackhouse, who was intimately associated with the late Captain Scott in organizing the fateful expedition to the South Pole, is arranging for another trip to the Antarctic. The plans are for the expedition to start from London in August, 1914, to explore King Edward VII. Land.

AEROPLANE KILLS FOUR.

Buchenburg, Prussia, Sept. 11.—Four persons were killed and several others badly injured here to-day by a military aeroplane. The machine was being used in connection with the manoeuvres of the Sixteenth Imperial Army Corps and had just left the ground when the pilot lost control and the aeroplane plunged into a crowd of spectators.

ATTACKED BY HORNETS.

Port Townsend, Wash., Sept. 11.—John Such, thirty years old, of Quillen, is in a precarious condition at his home as a result of being attacked by hornets. Mr. Such was crossing a vacant lot when he ran into a hornet's nest. In his efforts to escape he stumbled and fell. The hornets beset him in vicious attack. His screams attracted help, but not until his face had swollen beyond recognition.

LIBERAL HAS MAJORITY.

Lepas, Man., Sept. 11.—Richard Hall, Liberal candidate for election in Cumberland House, has a majority at Cumberland House. Five more polls to hear from are expected to increase his majority. He and Senator Davis are returning to Prince Albert to-day.

OFFICE FOR MRS. PANKHURST.

New York, Sept. 11.—Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont has arranged for an office at the home of the Political Equality Association to be placed at the disposal of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the English militant suffragette leader, as her headquarters while visiting this country. Mrs. Pankhurst will arrive here about October 18.

THE REAL OBJECTION.

In discussing the subject of Hindoo immigration to Canada the Montreal Gazette says:

"The fact that the immigrants from India are British subjects, some of whom have served in the army of the Empire, makes them no more welcome than if they came from a country that sought to destroy Canada. The objection is to their color chiefly and to their standard of living in a minor way."

The Gazette is entirely mistaken. The objection is not "to their color chiefly and to their standard of living in a minor way." The objections to Orientals in this province are that they are non-assimilative, and have a standard of living which makes them an economic menace. No objection has ever been lodged against the Hindoo or any other immigrant from the Orient on account of his color. One-half the human race live across the Pacific. Owing to their style of living they can afford to do work for a sum upon which a white man and his family could not subsist. And yet that wage is so much larger than they could earn in their own country that it would attract an ever-increasing stream of immigration of this character, soon outnumbering the white population. We assure the Gazette we are not frightened by a phantom when we say this. Even the $500 head tax, which some of our eastern contemporaries so deeply deplore, no longer suffices with regard to immigration from China.

Neither the press nor the people of eastern Canada understand the Oriental immigration problem as it affects the Pacific coast. Two or three thousand miles away, and safe from its effects, they can afford to comfortably lecture this province on its un-Christian intolerance. But if in Quebec or Ontario there were the same proportion of Orientals to the white population there are in British Columbia, with the danger of the country being flooded with them, there would be more riotous demonstrations that there ever have been on the Pacific coast, and even some of our contemporaries would come down from their perches long enough to shed some of their fine sophistries. How would it do for our contemporaries to ascertain what British Columbia's objections to Oriental immigrants are before they attempt to discuss the subject?

WHY IN MUFTI?

Berne, Switzerland, Sept. 9.—Sir Ian Hamilton, General Ellison and Colonel the Hon. S. Hughes, the Canadian Minister of Militia, and twenty-four Canadian officers, are attending the manoeuvres of the second Swiss army division in Juara. The party, who are in mufti, are following the manoeuvres in motor cars. To-morrow the officers leave for Nance to attend the French army manoeuvres.—Press dispatch.

Why should the Minister of Militia and his suite of twenty-four be in mufti? If Canada is to spend forty or fifty thousand dollars in sending that expedition to Europe, she should get at least a little advertisement out of it. We submit that our delegates should be in full uniform, with some distinctive mark showing where they came from. The fact that we are mooning going to celebrate a hundred years of peace with the United States and that there are no big guns scowling at one another along our four thousand miles of boundary line might give the European warlords the impression that we have no military establishment. Col. Hughes and his twenty-four satellites can remove that impression in every capital in the old world by wearing their plumes and regimentals. Even the corps of stenographers who accompany the party can do their part to show that Canada is a military nation with a big sword to rattle in the scabbard.

COST OF LIVING.

The Montreal Witness thinks the official statement issued by the federal government that the cost of living is higher in Canada than in any other country in the world will have a very bad effect. Our contemporary says the official announcement will cause intending emigrants to pause and inquire whether Canada under such conditions is a good country in which to shoulder the burden that falls upon every man who is not born with a silver spoon in his mouth. The Witness suggests that the government ought to institute an inquiry into the alleged facts, and, if they are capable of being demonstrated as facts, endeavor to apply a remedy. Premier Borden might appoint a commission to look into the matter and report. That is his favorite method of shuffling off responsibility for remedying all sorts and conditions of things that are detrimental to the general welfare of the country. The commissioners are appointed. They travel all over the land, sometimes over other lands, gather much irrelevant data at great expense, and when the fact of their appointment has almost been forgotten by the public, submit a report. The report is printed and filed, and nobody pays attention to it. The abolition of all duties upon natural products entering Canada from the United States and upon corresponding goods entering the United States from Canada would have unshackled commerce to a considerable extent and materially lessened the cost of living. The acceptance of reciprocity by Canada undoubtedly would have had the effect of reducing the cost of living in British Columbia, where it seems to be the highest in the world, owing to conditions for which the present much-lauded provincial government is for the greater part responsible. But the false loyalty issue and the cry that cheaper food would mean lower wages to the worker defeated the wise effort of the Laurier government to reduce taxation and the cost of living. We are now face to face with the consequences of that lamentable error of judgment on the part of the people. If it is a fact, as the Witness says, that reports of the high cost of living in Canada will deter emigrants of the most valuable class from coming to the country, we are toward results, what will the effect be upon British Columbia, where the cost of living is exceedingly high and which has hitherto been the most attractive province in the Dominion for emigrants of the most desirable type?

The matter is a serious one to contemplate. Both dominion and provincial administrations ought to take the question up and seek a remedy. Unfortunately, however, both are more inclined to let things drift than to take effective action in any matter involving the future prospects of the country.

CANADA AND AGRICULTURE.

As Sir William Whyte points out, it is an anomalous condition of affairs that Canada, essentially a farming country, should import from other countries agricultural products that could readily be grown within her own boundaries. We have merely to glance at the blue-books to realize to what extent this anomaly exists. We have been concentrating largely on the production of grain to the neglect of the diversified products of the farm, which we buy in the four quarters of the earth. And yet, on second thought, it is not unnatural that such is the case. The three prairie provinces, where the widest measure of settlement has taken place in the last decade, very readily lend themselves to the production of grain. Being ordinary human beings with an eye to profit by the quickest and easiest route, the settlers in the northwest instinctively devoted themselves to this branch of the industry. They had plenty of land capable of producing the finest wheat in the world and an expansive market, and their activities went along the most attractive road. And as long as there are large areas of wheat land to be acquired under easy conditions the farmers will continue to concentrate along this line. It may not be the best thing for the country as a whole, but they are more concerned in their fortunes as individuals than in what is best for the whole community. The element of personal selfishness counts among the grain growers of the prairies as in every other pursuit in life.

But it is not because there has been a concentration on grain-growing in British Columbia that diversified farming has been neglected. No attempt has been made to encourage land settlement and agriculture in this province. Most of the unsettled areas have been controlled by speculators who, also being human, hold them at the highest prices. The speculation fever being the most infectious of economic ills, it has been contracted by the farmers themselves, who believe they can get rich more quickly by selling their farms in town lots than by supplying the consumer with foodstuffs. So we import more than one million gallons of milk, seven million pounds of butter, four million pounds of cheese, and nearly six million dozen eggs from other places. Sir William Whyte will be surprised to learn that last year we imported more than a million gallons of milk from the United States, much of which was bought by the people of Victoria. According to the speech of the finance minister last session, while our home production in agricultural products in 1912 showed an increase of $500,000 over the aggregate of 1911, the value of dutiable agricultural imports increased in the same period to the amount of $1,700,000.

The great problem before the government of this province to-day is land settlement. There are less occupiers of land in proportion to the population than there were at the time of the last census. Our increase in population can be accounted for in the returns of three or four cities. The present administration has been in power for ten years and during all that time it has been so busy building political fences that it has found no time to evolve a statesmanlike colonization scheme. It has been the era of the speculator, and the consumers have been paying customs duties on necessities of life which under favorable conditions could easily have been raised in the province. It is not grain growing that troubles the farming industry of British Columbia. It is political expediency and land grabbing.

HOW DIFFERENT?

In the peroration of his address of welcome to the American Bar Association in Montreal recently Premier Borden said:

"By the ties of close kinship and of firm allegiance, by the ties of common institutions and traditions, of a mighty heritage and of vast responsibilities, by the enduring bonds of affection and of duty, we Canadians are bound to the great Empire of which our country forms no inconsiderable part; and we rejoice that those ties were never stronger or closer than they are to-day. By like ties of kinship, by the bonds of social and commercial intercourse, by the enjoyment of like institutions, by the possession of a common language and literature, by the inheritance of common liberties, by the duties and responsibilities of a citizenship confronted with common problems, by the ties of comradeship and neighborhood, we are also united to you. May the national life of each country be so guided that, while emulating each other in the development and conservation of our natural resources, in the growth and progress of our industries and our commerce and in every legitimate walk of national activity, we may find example from each other of men that is good and little that is evil."

How different is the lofty sentiment expressed in the eloquent passage we have quoted from the awful slush about annexation, "no truck nor trade with the Yankees," "trying to steal our country," and such like we heard from the hustings just two years ago! Incidentally it is worthy of note that conspicuous among the members of the American Bar Association, to whom Mr. Borden addressed his remarks, was ex-President Taft.

The matter of the regulation of women's dress seems to be causing as much trouble and turmoil in the United States as the Sunday law is occasioning in Canada. Would it be too bold a thing to suggest that both matters might very properly be left to the judgment of the individual? There is nothing, probably, that irritates people so much as attempts at interference with individual liberty, such as conventional regulation of conduct. No one with a spark of independence or sturdiness likes to have his "walk and conversation" upon given days or seasons "regulated" according to the ideas of others whose views do not precisely coincide with his own. Coercion nowadays should be applied only to the individual of criminal inclinations.

"Every nation, every people, every race, must toddle in the beginning." Some wise man has called our attention to this somewhat platitudinous deliverance, evidently believing that it has an application to Canada at the present time. But Premier Borden says Canada must continue to toddle for twenty-five if not for fifty years, notwithstanding the fact that our population is increasing at the rate of half a million a year, with every prospect that the growth of population will gain in impetus with every passing year. Canadians do not mind being classified as mere toddlers, but most of them, we think, will resent being placed in the perpetually toddling class.

Does that statute of Charles II. regarding Sunday observance, which is said to be still effective on this island, provide for punishment in the stocks and pillory for those who do not go to church? If it does, things will look up for the sawmills and carpenters. Is there enough timber in the province to provide the instruments of punishment?

After reading a synopsis of Sir Oliver Lodge's address we feel bound to concede that those articles from the unseen world in psychic research magazines over the signature of the late W. T. Stead may be bona fide after all. If they are, Mr. Stead's style has seriously deteriorated of late.

J. N. Greenhalgh, K. C., was madder when he saw Thaw and his millions roll across the line than he was when he failed to unload that railway gold-brick on this province nearly ten years ago.

A large dreadnought has recently been launched in England for the Turkish navy. The Turks will have no difficulty in manning her. No doubt we shall be told that Canada could not do such a thing in fifty years. The Turks are a very superior people.

LOVE AND GLORY.

(Thomas Dibdin, 1771-1841.)
Young Henry was as brave a youth
As ever graced a martial story;
And Jane was fair as lovely truth:
She sighed for Love, and he for Glory.
With her his faith he meant to plight,
And told her many a gallant story;
Till war, their coming joys to blight,
Called him away from Love to Glory.
Young Henry met the foe with pride;
Jane followed, fought—ah, hapless story!
In man's attire, by Henry's side,
She died for Love, and he for Glory.

With her he roamed the stilly nights,
And told her many a lover's story;
Till war for women's votes and rights
Called him from Love, and he to Glory.
Fair Jane, she met the foe with pride;
He followed, fought—ah, hapless story!
In woman's clothes, by Jane's sweet side,
He died for Love, and she for Glory.
DUDLEY H. ANDERSON.

THE GLORY OF WOMAN.

From T. P.'s Weekly.
The glory of woman is not to create, says Mowry Saben in an article on "Feminism" in Nesle's Monthly, but to bring creators into the world—to endow the race with wisdom, beauty and virtue through the Divine function that she is called upon to perform of giving birth to noble offspring. He emphasizes his assertion that women are not creators by a summary ranging from Homer to Wordsworth, which I quote: Probably Tennyson never wrote anything which gave such pleasure to the feminists of both sexes as these famous lines in "Locksley Hall," in which he says that:

"Woman is the lesser man, and all thy passions matched with mine,
Are as moonlight unto sunlight, and as water unto wine."

These lines stamped man as the superior sex with a vengeance, and from an absolute standpoint are doubtless unjust.

THE OLD BATTLE.

Brookville Recorder.
Mr. Hawkes states the situation precisely when he says the old battle of autonomy against centralized government is being fought over again. Canadians who thought that question had been settled forever over-rated the patriotism of many of their fellow-countrymen. Four years ago they could not have dreamed that the leaders of a great party, then proclaiming the doctrine of Canadian self-reliance in matters of naval defence, would to-day be seeking to drive Canada into the role of tribute-payer, and degrading Canadian manhood and Canadian nationhood.

RUNNING UP THE BILLS.

From the Stratford Beacon.
Not so long ago Canada was spending only a million dollars a year on its militia. Now twelve millions are spent. This is altogether out of proportion to increase of population, and amounts to $150 per capita. The type of Minister of Militia represented by Col. Sam Hughes comes too high for a peace-loving people like the Canadians.

An Extensive Range of Women's New Fall Coats, From $12.50 to $40.00

THE extraordinary large numbers of Women's Coats we sell at each succeeding Fall season, we attribute to the extensive range we carry and the exceptional values we are able to offer. This is entirely brought about by many years of practical experience in buying direct from the leading manufacturers in large quantities, and by paying cash, for which we receive special discounts and many price concessions. This year our range of Fall and Winter Coats is unusually large, and while the styles are very attractive they have also been designed to give the greatest degree of comfort and warmth to the wearer. They come in a choice assortment of soft, spongy cloths, including diagonals, blanket cloths, tweeds, chinchillas, curl cloths, and ratines. Big buttons in two tones are very popular, and with the convertible collars that are worn close to the neck or giving a reverse effect these garments should delight all women who demand both comfort and style in coats. We quote below a few of our leading values:

At $12.50 We have a smart range of Coats in two-tone effects. These are made in three-quarter length, with cut-away fronts, shirred back, with belt; roll collar and deep cuffs.

At $13.75 You can choose from diagonal stripes and plain tweeds, in three-quarter or cut-away styles; plain or belted backs, large pockets, roll collar, made in convertible style to wear open or closed; finished with large fancy buttons.

At $15.00 Comes a very smart line of Double-breasted, Straight-cut Coats, finished with belted back, with a smart V-finish on either side. Well tailored coats in two-tone tweed mixtures.

At $17.50 There's the new Balkan style, with hip belt, in three-quarter length, with cut-away front, roll collar and large pockets. A very attractive line.

At $20.00 Comes a splendid line of Coats in grey, fawn and blue blanket cloth, double faced and plaid binding. The collar, reverses, cuffs and belt of reversible, deep set in sleeve, made in the three-quarter cut-away style, and the entire coat bound with silk braid.

At $25.00 We are showing a big variety of styles and colors and would draw your special attention to the View street windows. Diagonals and the plainer tweed are numerous. One particularly smart style has a full back, gathered in to a tight belt below the hip; high velvet collars with extreme cut-away front, in three-quarter length, and comes in a smart black and white stripe, trimmed with huge fancy buttons.

At $27.50 Comes another good line of Balkan styles, in fancy tweeds and plain colors; three-quarter length, with slightly cut-away front; roll collar and fancy frog fastening.

At $30.00 Comes a very handsome range of styles, including a Double-breasted Coat in three-quarter length, with slightly cut-away corners; roll collar and deep cuffs of velvet, and back finished with wide belt in Balkan style. This model in fancy tweeds.

At $35.00 We have a line of Heavy Tweed Coats with satin linings to the waist; deep set-in sleeve, close collar and straight, double-breasted front, with huge pointed belt in back. A very suitable coat for motoring or steamer travel. There are also other more dressy styles in the cut-away fronts and velvet collars, in two-tone curl cloths.

At $40.00 There's a very extensive assortment in all the newest novelty materials, including the futurist and cubist patterns. One of the most striking models is in a Heavy Wool Coating in three-quarter length, with cut-away front and full effect through hips, gradually sloping into a tight band; very deep set in sleeve; collars of moleskin; coat is lined throughout with best skinner satin. This style also in Chiffon Broadcloth and Tailored Serges. Other models ranging in price to ..... $45.00

50 Men's Cravenette Overcoats, Usually Sold at $15.00, Friday $9.75

THERE are very few men who do not wear a waterproof coat of some kind, and at this season of the year most men like to start off with a new coat, made in the latest style, so as to get the best wear out of the garment when it is needed most.

This Special Sale announced for Friday will therefore be of great interest. For we have just 50 coats that we intend offering at a very low price for two particular reasons—first to encourage early shopping, and secondly, because we have such an exceptionally big stock that we have not the room to show them properly.

If you are anticipating the buying of a new Fall coat it will certainly pay you to come and investigate this offer. The coats come in five different patterns and shades, and are made in the full length, with plain or military collars. Regular $15.00 coats. Special Friday..... $9.75

Special Clearance of Child- ren's Soiled Muslin Dresses—Friday

And there's a nice assortment for you to choose from. Most of these dresses are slightly soiled—soiled through handling while on show in the window and department—some more than others, but in some cases not sufficient to prevent being worn without laundering. They come in all-muslins in a variety of pretty styles, neatly trimmed with laces and insertions; others are in ecyclet embroidery, prettily trimmed with insertions and ribbons. Sizes, from 2 to 12 years, included, but not in all styles.

We intend clearing them all out on Friday at the following price reductions:

Gone to Serve Term—Stenroy Clunes was taken over to New Westminster yesterday by Detective Turner to enter on a term of four years for burglary.

For Coach and Horses—Yesterday the license commissioners for Esquimalt granted a license to Mrs. Simpson, who has repurchased the Coach and Horses Inn, which she sold six months ago to Nitze & Holler.

Builds $2,000 Dwelling—George Bohlander obtained a building permit yesterday for the erection of a dwelling at 519 Cornwall street at a cost of $2,000. J. W. Moore was also granted a permit to make changes to the extent of $600 in his office in Johnson street.

On Adam's Peak, in Ceylon, at about 7,000 feet above sea level, there is a large flat stone on which is the imprint of the human foot. Mahomedans believe this to be the place that Adam first stepped on being expelled from the Garden of Eden. In close proximity to this are the tea gardens of the world-famed Nuwara Elyia district, where "Salada" Tea is grown.

Tenancy Case—Suing for rent in lieu of notice W. H. Warwick, owner of the Mount Douglas Apartments, Fort street, was non-suited in county court yesterday afternoon in an action against one of the tenants, Mrs. Adams, who, he claimed, had left without giving the required notice. Defendant denied that she had done so. R. de B. Howell acted for the plaintiff and J. H. Austin for the defendant.

Victoria Girl Chosen—The forthcoming visit of the San Francisco girls on behalf of the Portola Festival at the California capital, has taken on an interest which was not foreseen when the contest for the selection of the girls was commenced. Miss Norma Wilson, formerly of Victoria, now of San Francisco, has been voted the most popular girl in the Rialto building in San Francisco and is expected to make the trip north along the Coast with the others selected.

Will Not Confiscate—Satisfied with having established its contention that shingle bolts are not manufactured lumber within the meaning of the Timber Manufacturers Act, the forest department is releasing the six carloads of lumber and the 9c swiftness of logs which were seized recently while the Excelsior Lumber Company was exporting them. Mr. Justice Clement has held that shingle bolts must be sawn into shingles within the province, and that they are not sawn lumber as they stand.

B. C. Exhibits in East—This week at London, Ont., and Ottawa the British Columbia exhibits will be on view, terminating the fair at which the provincial exhibits will be shown. W. P. Brandt and his assistant, who are working for the department of agriculture, at the conclusion of these fairs will commence to collect the exhibits for the United States Land Show at Chicago in November, when, together with the Canadian Pacific railway, British Columbia will stage an exhibit of its natural resources.

Discover Larch Pest—In the course of prolonged study of economic insect pests in British Columbia J. M. Swaine, entomologist of the Canadian Conservation Commission, who has been working in conjunction with the forestry department here, has discovered several new forest insects, one of which is particularly destructive to the larch. Owing to the almost impenetrable forests which cover large parts of the province, the advisability of using measures to combat these pests is not obvious.

Brotherhood Movement—A committee was appointed at a meeting held at the Metropolitan church on Tuesday evening to discuss the "Brotherhood Movement" officers being nominated in order to organize the work on strong lines. Next Sunday afternoon at 2.30 there will be a meeting of the organization for the purpose of confirming the nominations, and new members and friends will be welcomed. The meetings, which will open regularly at 2.30, will be open to men of any or no denomination.

Both Sides Recover—The case was heard in county court yesterday by Judge Lammiman of King Manufacturing Company v. J. R. Morgan. Plaintiff sued for the value of materials and work done in the making of alterations and repairs to defendant's office, while he counter-claimed for damages for inconvenience which he said was caused by failure to comply with the understanding as to how the work was to be done. Plaintiff was allowed $215 and costs on their claim and the defendant $25 and costs on his claim. R. McKenna was for the plaintiffs and E. G. P. Baker for the defendant.

Thrown From Car Platform—Edward O'Neill, Esquimalt, was thrown from the platform of an Esquimalt car last evening as it rounded the curve on the road near the city limits. He fell heavily to the roadway and at first it was thought that he had been killed, as he was unconscious and was badly cut about the head. The police ambulance was called and made a quick run out to the spot. O'Neill was brought to Dr. Batty's office, recovering consciousness on the way, and there it was found that he had not any bones broken. At the police station Jailer Brogan dressed the wound in O'Neill's head so skillfully that Dr. Thomas, who sewed up the deep cut which had been inflicted, expressed great satisfaction at the ability shown. Those who know the thoroughness with which the members of the police force who have taken the first aid courses of the St. John Ambulance Association applied themselves to the instruction, and the kind of skill with which they put their training into practice will not be surprised at this.

CHIEF COOPER RESIGNS.

New Head of the Songhees Tribe is Likely to be William Robert.

Chief Michael Cooper, who was appointed chief of the Songhees tribe of Indians twenty years ago for life, has resigned that position on account of his health not being as robust as it was.

Chief Cooper was appointed to the position by A. W. Yowell when superintendent of Indian affairs, and has seen some of the most important movements in the history of the tribe, culminating in the removal from their old reserve across the harbor to the new one at Esquimalt. Chief Cooper was the principal representative of the tribe in the negotiations which took place with the provincial government to that end.

The choice of the chief as his successor is William Robert, a well-known member of the band, and he will recommend him to the tribe. It is, of course, for the tribe to elect as it pleases, but it is expected that the choice will fall on him.

"GREEN STOCKINGS."

It is to be hoped that the presentation of "Green Stockings" by Miss Verna Felton and the Allen Players this week will point a double moral, and may have a few reforms. That the lessons are administered with generous portions of laughter should make them readily acceptable.

First is the lecture to that great army of near-sighted males who must need have a girl's charms heralded, tagged, price-marked with social favor before they can discern them. Yes, it is a plea for more consideration of the faithful ones who efface themselves and submerge their own personality that some one they love may attain their heart's desire. Second the example of "Celia Faraday," as portrayed by Miss Felton, who determines to have one fling, and merge from the wall-flower class, should prove a hint worth taking by any girl who feels that she is capable of more than her friends have been willing to grant her.

However, one should not derive from this opinion that the text of the play "The Woman's Page," which contains ample food for thought, but the intent is to amuse and any one who becomes lost in pondering will be in danger of missing any amount of clever repartee.

"Green Stockings" will finish the week at the Victoria theatre and a matinee will be given Saturday afternoon.

Gone to Serve Term—Stenroy Clunes was taken over to New Westminster yesterday by Detective Turner to enter on a term of four years for burglary.

For Coach and Horses—Yesterday the license commissioners for Esquimalt granted a license to Mrs. Simpson, who has repurchased the Coach and Horses Inn, which she sold six months ago to Nitze & Holler.

Builds $2,000 Dwelling—George Bohlander obtained a building permit yesterday for the erection of a dwelling at 519 Cornwall street at a cost of $2,000. J. W. Moore was also granted a permit to make changes to the extent of $600 in his office in Johnson street.

On Adam's Peak, in Ceylon, at about 7,000 feet above sea level, there is a large flat stone on which is the imprint of the human foot. Mahomedans believe this to be the place that Adam first stepped on being expelled from the Garden of Eden. In close proximity to this are the tea gardens of the world-famed Nuwara Elyia district, where "Salada" Tea is grown.

Tenancy Case—Suing for rent in lieu of notice W. H. Warwick, owner of the Mount Douglas Apartments, Fort street, was non-suited in county court yesterday afternoon in an action against one of the tenants, Mrs. Adams, who, he claimed, had left without giving the required notice. Defendant denied that she had done so. R. de B. Howell acted for the plaintiff and J. H. Austin for the defendant.

Victoria Girl Chosen—The forthcoming visit of the San Francisco girls on behalf of the Portola Festival at the California capital, has taken on an interest which was not foreseen when the contest for the selection of the girls was commenced. Miss Norma Wilson, formerly of Victoria, now of San Francisco, has been voted the most popular girl in the Rialto building in San Francisco and is expected to make the trip north along the Coast with the others selected.

Will Not Confiscate—Satisfied with having established its contention that shingle bolts are not manufactured lumber within the meaning of the Timber Manufacturers Act, the forest department is releasing the six carloads of lumber and the 9c swiftness of logs which were seized recently while the Excelsior Lumber Company was exporting them. Mr. Justice Clement has held that shingle bolts must be sawn into shingles within the province, and that they are not sawn lumber as they stand.

B. C. Exhibits in East—This week at London, Ont., and Ottawa the British Columbia exhibits will be on view, terminating the fair at which the provincial exhibits will be shown. W. P. Brandt and his assistant, who are working for the department of agriculture, at the conclusion of these fairs will commence to collect the exhibits for the United States Land Show at Chicago in November, when, together with the Canadian Pacific railway, British Columbia will stage an exhibit of its natural resources.

Discover Larch Pest—In the course of prolonged study of economic insect pests in British Columbia J. M. Swaine, entomologist of the Canadian Conservation Commission, who has been working in conjunction with the forestry department here, has discovered several new forest insects, one of which is particularly destructive to the larch. Owing to the almost impenetrable forests which cover large parts of the province, the advisability of using measures to combat these pests is not obvious.

Brotherhood Movement—A committee was appointed at a meeting held at the Metropolitan church on Tuesday evening to discuss the "Brotherhood Movement" officers being nominated in order to organize the work on strong lines. Next Sunday afternoon at 2.30 there will be a meeting of the organization for the purpose of confirming the nominations, and new members and friends will be welcomed. The meetings, which will open regularly at 2.30, will be open to men of any or no denomination.

Alleged Vagrant Remanded—Charles Mitchell was charged this morning by the police with being a vagrant, to which he pleaded not guilty. A remand was granted until to-morrow in order to give time to investigate his recent movements.

Small Debts Court—The small debts court has resumed sittings, Magistrate Jay sitting in the assize court chamber yesterday afternoon and dealing with a number of cases which had accumulated during the summer months.

Sunday Selling Appeal—The question of Sunday selling will reach the appeal court in November. Frank Higgins stated to-day. It will not go up on the Laidy case which has to be acted upon by the police magistrate yet, but on a new prosecution which will take place.

Appeals From Magistrate—The appeal in the matter of the convictions of tally-ho employees under the hired vehicles-by-law for making an unnecessary noise at the wharf will be heard to-morrow, having been postponed from to-day. Judge Lammiman has a couple of criminal cases to hear to-morrow on appeal from conviction by the magistrate.

Inspects Night Schools—Inspector Paul, of the public school board, left on this afternoon's boat for Vancouver to attend to-night the meeting of the Royal Institute for the Advancement of Learning to pass the annual estimates for the McGill College. While in Vancouver he will also investigate the manner of conducting the night classes in the Vancouver public schools.

New Rooming House—A building permit was issued this morning to A. J. Abbott for the erection of a 4,000 two-story dwelling at 2114 Forbes street. Plans have been submitted for approval for the erection of a three-story addition at the rear of the Cook-se building in Pandora avenue near Douglas street. The addition is to be used for rooming house purposes and will cost $11,500.

Doubt in Chinese Case—When the case against Lee Dock, accused of having opium in his possession, was called this morning City Prosecutor Harrison informed the magistrate that the city analyst had examined the substance which was found in the possession of the Chinese, but that while it had the appearance of opium and behaved the same when applied to a light there was some doubt about it which made Mr. Birch unwilling to swear that it was opium. The case was withdrawn on this account.

While several Chinese were in the cell on Sunday Lee Dock was caught by Sergeant Harper trying to swallow a quantity of opium. He was taken to the hospital, where it was thought to be opium in the form of pills.

Thrown From Car Platform—Edward O'Neill, Esquimalt, was thrown from the platform of an Esquimalt car last evening as it rounded the curve on the road near the city limits. He fell heavily to the roadway and at first it was thought that he had been killed, as he was unconscious and was badly cut about the head. The police ambulance was called and made a quick run out to the spot. O'Neill was brought to Dr. Batty's office, recovering consciousness on the way, and there it was found that he had not any bones broken. At the police station Jailer Brogan dressed the wound in O'Neill's head so skillfully that Dr. Thomas, who sewed up the deep cut which had been inflicted, expressed great satisfaction at the ability shown. Those who know the thoroughness with which the members of the police force who have taken the first aid courses of the St. John Ambulance Association applied themselves to the instruction, and the kind of skill with which they put their training into practice will not be surprised at this.

Both Sides Recover—The case was heard in county court yesterday by Judge Lammiman of King Manufacturing Company v. J. R. Morgan. Plaintiff sued for the value of materials and work done in the making of alterations and repairs to defendant's office, while he counter-claimed for damages for inconvenience which he said was caused by failure to comply with the understanding as to how the work was to be done. Plaintiff was allowed $215 and costs on their claim and the defendant $25 and costs on his claim. R. McKenna was for the plaintiffs and E. G. P. Baker for the defendant.

CHIEF COOPER RESIGNS.

New Head of the Songhees Tribe is Likely to be William Robert.

Chief Michael Cooper, who was appointed chief of the Songhees tribe of Indians twenty years ago for life, has resigned that position on account of his health not being as robust as it was.

Chief Cooper was appointed to the position by A. W. Yowell when superintendent of Indian affairs, and has seen some of the most important movements in the history of the tribe, culminating in the removal from their old reserve across the harbor to the new one at Esquimalt. Chief Cooper was the principal representative of the tribe in the negotiations which took place with the provincial government to that end.

The choice of the chief as his successor is William Robert, a well-known member of the band, and he will recommend him to the tribe. It is, of course, for the tribe to elect as it pleases, but it is expected that the choice will fall on him.

"GREEN STOCKINGS."

It is to be hoped that the presentation of "Green Stockings" by Miss Verna Felton and the Allen Players this week will point a double moral, and may have a few reforms. That the lessons are administered with generous portions of laughter should make them readily acceptable.

First is the lecture to that great army of near-sighted males who must need have a girl's charms heralded, tagged, price-marked with social favor before they can discern them. Yes, it is a plea for more consideration of the faithful ones who efface themselves and submerge their own personality that some one they love may attain their heart's desire. Second the example of "Celia Faraday," as portrayed by Miss Felton, who determines to have one fling, and merge from the wall-flower class, should prove a hint worth taking by any girl who feels that she is capable of more than her friends have been willing to grant her.

However, one should not derive from this opinion that the text of the play "The Woman's Page," which contains ample food for thought, but the intent is to amuse and any one who becomes lost in pondering will be in danger of missing any amount of clever repartee.

"Green Stockings" will finish the week at the Victoria theatre and a matinee will be given Saturday afternoon.

—permit me to introduce Mr. and Mrs. I-Want-It. Mr. and Mrs. I-Want-It have been looking for the very goods you manufacture, but they did not know they could be bought in this town. The merchants—some of them—keep your goods. That's their complaint—they keep them too long. They would much rather sell your goods than keep them—but Mr. and Mrs. I-Want-It have not been told about them.

Why not use the newspapers here to let them know what you manufacture and how good it is? Mr. and Mrs. I-Want-It read the advertising in newspapers like THE TIMES.

Tell your story here and see how quickly the Jews, bustling merchants of this town will co-operate with you.

See how the people will appreciate a little information. Smile as the orders roll into your factory. You will be too busy to worry.

Transfers Granted—Street Work Delays Building Hotel Premises.

The license commissioners yesterday afternoon granted a transfer, following a temporary permit, of the license for the Rock Bay hotel from B. A. Holden to James Rae, and extended until the annual sitting of the board an extension of the temporary permit under which the license of the Ritz hotel bar is being carried on by Channing Jameson Lovejoy instead of Mrs. Baker.

The mayor notified the board that he had granted a temporary permit for the bottle license of the Windsor grocery to be carried on in temporary premises, but there was no appearance for the holder nor application from him.

A. E. Todd pointed out to the board that owing to the failure of the city to carry out the paving of Douglas street in the vicinity of the Auto sat-on he would be unable to have the new premises ready for the tenant.

ALEX. LOCKLEY NOW PRESIDENT

SIX CLUBS IN SENIOR LEAGUE

Schedule for First Division Drawn Up at Soccer Meeting; Seven Teams Enter Intermediate Organization

Just three weeks from Saturday the soccer enthusiasts will be in their glory. At a meeting of the Victoria and District Football Association last night the schedule for the first division was completed, while the list of games for the second division was held up for a week in order to make sure of the number of clubs who wish dates. To date there are seven clubs entered, while in the senior division six clubs, Victoria, West, James Bay, Sons of England, North Wards, Thistles and Hibernians, have been granted dates.

Wedgehead, an old senior player, was regraded to the intermediate division in order that he could play with the Navy, but the league refused to grant the request of Jones, a member of the same club. He will have to play senior football this season. There will be a number of changes this year in the matter of players, but these will not be known until the complete registration is filed with the league. The entry of the Hibernians into senior company means renewed interest, while it will also give Victorians faster football in the senior league. Victoria, West, and the Wards will find stiff opposition in the new club, while the Sons of England, the James Bay and Thistle clubs will all find strong eleven.

Alex. Lockley was unanimously elected president, in view of the retirement of J. Manson, and Sam Lorimer was elected vice-president of the association. Both of the new officers are well known and popular in the city, and while Mr. Manson's retirement is deeply regretted by all, it is felt that the association is lucky in having two such capable officers ready to step in and take up the burdens.

The first division schedule follows:

October 4.
Hibernians vs. J. B. A. A.
Thistles vs. V. W. A. A.
North Wards vs. S. O. E.

October 11.
J. B. A. A. vs. Thistles.
V. W. A. A. vs. North Wards.
S. O. E. vs. Hibernians.

October 18.
Hibernians vs. V. W. A. A.
North Wards vs. Thistles.
S. O. E. vs. J. B. A. A.

October 25.
J. B. A. A. vs. North Wards.
V. W. A. A. vs. S. O. E.
Thistles vs. Hibernians.

November 1.
North Wards vs. Hibernians.
S. O. E. vs. Thistles.
J. B. A. A. vs. V. W. A. A.

November 8.
J. B. A. A. vs. Hibernians.
V. W. A. A. vs. Thistles.
S. O. E. vs. North Wards.

November 15.
Thistles vs. J. B. A. A.
North Wards vs. V. W. A. A.
Hibernians vs. S. O. E.

November
V. W. A. A. vs. Hibernians.
Thistles vs. North Wards.
J. B. A. A. vs. S. O. E.

November 29.
North Wards vs. J. B. A. A.
S. O. E. vs. V. W. A. A.
Hibernians vs. Thistles.

All Sons of England footballers are requested to attend a meeting, this evening in the Victoria barber shop at 8 o'clock. All intending players and those interested are invited.

The Thistle Football Club will hold a meeting this evening at 8.15 o'clock in the club room, Government and Yates streets. All interested in the welfare of the club are requested to be present.

Following are the results of Old Country football games played yesterday:

First division—Derby County, 2; Middleborough, 2.
Second division—Bradford, 3; Grimsby, 0.

Southern League—Southampton, 6; Brighton, 0. South End, 2; Reading, 1; Watford, 2; Norwich, 0.

BALLARD MAY GET PORTLAND FRANCHISE

It is now said that Charlie Fullerton will be drafted by a Southern League Club, while Fitzsimmons, the Spokane short fielder will be bought up by the Pittsburgh Pirates. The two remain at Tacoma for the balance of the week, returning here on Monday for the final week's baseball of the 1913 season.

The chances are that the Portland Northwest Club will be given a home in Ballard, Wash., after this season. Ballard is twenty minutes ride from Seattle, and the scheme is to play continuous ball in Seattle. Judge McCredie, so it is said, is quite willing to go ahead and finance the club.

Seattle—Covaleski outpitched Gipe and Spokane won from Seattle 9 to 5.

Spokane hit Gipe all over the field and drove in five runs. Gipe's home run in the last inning was the first made on Seattle's new grounds.

He sent a long drive over the right-field fence.

R. H. E. score: Seattle, 5; Spokane, 9. 10 3. Batteries—Clark, Doty; Hardstadt, Konnick and Grindell; Mays and King.

Portland—Portland beat Vancouver with ease.

R. H. E. score: Portland, 6; Vancouver, 0. 6 7 2. Batteries—Clark, Doty; Hardstadt, Konnick and Grindell; Mays and King.

Portland, Sept. 11.—Judge W. W. McCredie, owner of the Portland franchise in the coast and Northwestern leagues, may become the owner of the Boise team. James Richardson, one of the league umpires, is here to try to induce McCredie to take hold of the club.

WHAT'S HIS ALIBI?

World's lightweight champion, who has evaded a match with Freddie Welsh by simply getting out of Vancouver.

WILLIE RITCHIE COLTS NOT JUNIORS OUTSIDERS TO ASSIST

Vancouver and Cowichan will assist Victoria in the match between the Australians and the "Colts." The committee have received word that there are three Cowichan cricketers who are under twenty-one years of age, and therefore eligible to play against the visitors, while they would like to hear from Vancouver cricketers under twenty-one years of age, who can take part in the match.

Victoria is expected to work this afternoon against McGinnity, though Fitzgerald was also available for a turn in the box. The score:

WELLS A WINNER.
London, Sept. 11.—Bombardier Wells, heavyweight champion of England, last night retrieved his previous defeat at the hands of "Gunner" Jim Moir, the ex-champion, by knocking him out in the fifth round. The fight took place in the Canterbury Music Hall.

VISITORS LEAD.
New York, Sept. 11.—When stumps were drawn in the cricket match on the Staten Island grounds between the Incomito eleven, of England, and the Gentlemen of New York, the visitors had declared their first innings closed at 287 for the loss of seven wickets, and the New York eleven had made exactly 100 runs with seven wickets down.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE.
Looks Like a Case of Cold Feet.
Probably the greatest sporting surprise of the year was the deliberate walking out of Willie Ritchie from his match with Freddie Welsh. The mere mention of the name of the champion merely motivated him absolutely no notice and he stopped and the champion partner to Seattle on his way to "Prisco." It was thought that everything had been arranged for the bout and that there would be no possible hitch. Even the referee had been agreed upon and Welsh had consented to a Californian official for this important battle. Ritchie was undoubtedly out-generalized in the matter of details by Harry Pollock, manager of Freddie Welsh, but even at that the "Prisco" lightweight was getting the lion's share of the purse, half of the moving picture returns and an extra thousand for postponing the fight from Labor Day to September 20. The champion says that the purse was not guaranteed. Well, Hugh Springer was on the ball at the end of the bargain, and there was no danger of Ritchie not getting his end of the purse. Perhaps Welsh was a tougher proposition than the champion figured and he edged out of this contest.

Bayley Will Give Welsh a Tough Battle.
Ad. Wolgan's sickness at the time he was to meet Freddie Welsh just two years ago at Vernon gave Willie Ritchie a chance to break into the limelight as a promising lightweight and it is just possible that Ritchie's latest break will give Joe Bayley his long desired chance. Bayley practically handed the Canadian championship to Freddie Vaise at Vancouver on July 1, but he showed that he was the better of the two in their last battle, which ended in a draw. Bayley has taken the best of care of himself since then and he will be able to step the entire distance against Welsh at top speed. Bayley's ruggedness is figured enough to give him the edge on Welsh in a long distance battle, though the British champion will have a greater many years' experience on the Victoria boy. Bayley, however, can hit harder than Welsh and there is no telling what a chance punch will result in. Bayley will have plenty of supporters when he enters the ring against Welsh, for the sturdy little Victoria lightweight proved in his last battle with Vaise that he is a vastly improved boy.

Tommy Burns Once More in Limelight.
Victorians have just cause to remember Tommy Burns, the Calgary light promoter, and the confession of Arthur Polley that Burns was the instigator of the crooked bout which the pale staged at Calgary in April, shows that Burns, if Polley is to be believed, has not forgotten a few old tricks. Burns did not give Bayley a square deal when the Victoria boy fought Dick Hyland at Calgary and probably would never have handed him the title had not Bayley knocked out Billy Allen. His plans for a world-renowned fight arena went astray because of that unfortunate ending of the Pelkey-McCarthy affair on May 24, the arena being found in ashes the next morning. His contract with Pelkey showed his grabbing instincts and this was signed when Pelkey was in jail, indicating that Burns must have had some influence over Pelkey to secure such a half of the latter's earnings in the ring for the next two years. Burns did not gain any prestige when he fought Johnson, while Pelkey's admission of the fake does not spoil Burns' reputation, because that which is already blackened cannot be smudged.

SWAIN GETS HIS USUAL HOME RUN

Bees Hammer Tiger Twirlers Hard and Win Second Game; Score 8 to 4

Tacoma, Sept. 11.—For six innings Griot turned the Bees back to the bench without a score, but in the final seventh the Islanders turned upon the Tiger slabs artist with a vengeance. They belted the ball to all corners of the lot and when Belford had been rushed to the rescue three runs had altered across the pan with the bases still jammed. Butch proved unequal to the task of stopping the Victoria slug-gers and the final score being 8 to 4, a nice pitchers' battle up to the seventh, loose support allowing Tacoma to send a couple of runs across the pan in the third and sixth. Charlie Swain boosted his home run total another notch when he plunked the ball so far into centre field territory that he circled the bases before it was returned to the diamond. It was his thirty-third four-base clout and some hit at that.

Brooks Back Again.
Narveson hit a nice article of ball, keeping the hitters well scattered. He ended up a bit after the Bees had given him a six-run lead in the eighth, but had a big edge on the Tacoma twirlers opposed to him. He allowed but two bases on balls and only two putouts were registered in the outfield, showing that the Swede had something on the ball. Charlie Brooks again played first base, getting a brace of timely hits, while his fielding was all that could have been desired. The entire Victoria team were on their toes throughout, their fielding being very fast, while they showed a lot of speed on the base paths. Rawlings, Brooks, Delmas and Narveson had two hits apiece, while Alberts had no less than three sacrifice hits.

Broken was expected to work this afternoon against McGinnity, though Fitzgerald was also available for a turn in the box. The score:

WELLS A WINNER.
London, Sept. 11.—Bombardier Wells, heavyweight champion of England, last night retrieved his previous defeat at the hands of "Gunner" Jim Moir, the ex-champion, by knocking him out in the fifth round. The fight took place in the Canterbury Music Hall.

VISITORS LEAD.
New York, Sept. 11.—When stumps were drawn in the cricket match on the Staten Island grounds between the Incomito eleven, of England, and the Gentlemen of New York, the visitors had declared their first innings closed at 287 for the loss of seven wickets, and the New York eleven had made exactly 100 runs with seven wickets down.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE.
Looks Like a Case of Cold Feet.
Probably the greatest sporting surprise of the year was the deliberate walking out of Willie Ritchie from his match with Freddie Welsh. The mere mention of the name of the champion merely motivated him absolutely no notice and he stopped and the champion partner to Seattle on his way to "Prisco." It was thought that everything had been arranged for the bout and that there would be no possible hitch. Even the referee had been agreed upon and Welsh had consented to a Californian official for this important battle. Ritchie was undoubtedly out-generalized in the matter of details by Harry Pollock, manager of Freddie Welsh, but even at that the "Prisco" lightweight was getting the lion's share of the purse, half of the moving picture returns and an extra thousand for postponing the fight from Labor Day to September 20. The champion says that the purse was not guaranteed. Well, Hugh Springer was on the ball at the end of the bargain, and there was no danger of Ritchie not getting his end of the purse. Perhaps Welsh was a tougher proposition than the champion figured and he edged out of this contest.

Bayley Will Give Welsh a Tough Battle.
Ad. Wolgan's sickness at the time he was to meet Freddie Welsh just two years ago at Vernon gave Willie Ritchie a chance to break into the limelight as a promising lightweight and it is just possible that Ritchie's latest break will give Joe Bayley his long desired chance. Bayley practically handed the Canadian championship to Freddie Vaise at Vancouver on July 1, but he showed that he was the better of the two in their last battle, which ended in a draw. Bayley has taken the best of care of himself since then and he will be able to step the entire distance against Welsh at top speed. Bayley's ruggedness is figured enough to give him the edge on Welsh in a long distance battle, though the British champion will have a greater many years' experience on the Victoria boy. Bayley, however, can hit harder than Welsh and there is no telling what a chance punch will result in. Bayley will have plenty of supporters when he enters the ring against Welsh, for the sturdy little Victoria lightweight proved in his last battle with Vaise that he is a vastly improved boy.

OAK BAY TO PLAY M'INNIS ON HOME

Winnipeg Twelve Abandon Trip; Armstrong Twelve Again Defeated by V. A. C.

Oak Bay officers announce that Angus McInnes will be seen on the home bench of the Victoria challengers for the Mann cup, and one other change is also probable. McInnes' presence on the attack will materially strengthen the Oak Bay team and there is a strong feeling in the capital that the Oaks have a splendid chance to lift the cup. The disastrous defeat of the Armstrong team has had no effect on the locals, as they know the strength of the V. A. C. team and will do their utmost to bring the trophy to the capital. There is a chance that the Oaks will be the only other challengers this year. The Winnipeg Conservatives have abandoned their trip because of lack of funds, while the eastern championship is not settled yet. The Oaks are practicing every night in anticipation of the games on September 20 and 24.

Cancel Trip.
Winnipeg, Sept. 11.—Owing to the fact that the club could not secure sufficient funds the proposed trip of the Young Conservative lacrosse team of Winnipeg, to Vancouver, after the Mann cup, has been called off. President Daly had slight hopes of being able to raise the necessary money yesterday morning but he was again turned down and there was nothing left but to announce to the boys that the jaunt would have to be abandoned for this year. The team has been allotted dates on September 17 and 20, and all the boys were ready to take the train on a minute's notice.

Cup Holders Win.
Vancouver, Sept. 11.—Armstrong's lacrosse players will return home without the Mann cup. They played two matches for the trophy and were hopelessly beaten in both engagements.

The V. A. C. players romped home winners by a score of sixteen goals to seven in the first match on Saturday and yesterday in the final they collected nine more against one by the challengers. In the two matches Vancouver's total was twenty-six against Armstrong's three. The exhibition was a poor one. The cup holders were minus the services of Bobby Knight, and this made a hole in the home defense. But even without him the champions played rings around the visitors.

It has been decided to give each of the city bands one week at the track, and there will be plenty of music during the intermissions. The Lieutenant-Governor's box will be suitably draped and the opening is to be made a gorgeous affair. A special race card will be prepared for the inaugural. A score or more of the horses will arrive at the track this week and the following trainers have sent word that they will arrive early next week with the following number of horses: James Neil, 6; T. J. Ogle, 10; Davies, 8; McDonald, 10; Wentworth, 6; Oest, 4; Ramsay, 8; T. Cavin, 6; Baird, 4; Fitzgerald and all the Vancouver stables.

There must be something wrong with Bert Whaling, the former Seattle catcher. Bert never had the reputation of being much of a stickler, even in the Northwestern League, but he battled 500 for the series for the Boston Braves.

"Tris Speaker is the greatest outfielder baseball has ever produced," said Manager Clark Griffith. "If I would give $100,000 for Ty Cobb I guess I'd give the same amount for Speaker."

Bobby Steele relieved Jimmy Con-cannon in the final game of the series between Saskatoon and Moose Jaw, winning handily.

Connie Mack has a good chance to widen the gap between his team and Cleveland. The Naps have but three more games at home, while the Athletics still have 12 games on their own grounds.

Joe McGinnity had been resting up Dick Kauffman for this series with the Bees.

Herr Meek is still out of the game with a sprained ankle.

MAPLE LEAF WINS SECOND CUP RACE.
London, Sept. 11.—The British motorboat, Maple Leaf IV, won the second race for the international motorboat trophy to-day in Osborne bay, Isle of Wight, her time for the course of 32.1 miles being 39 minutes 28.5 seconds.

The Desperjans II. (France) finished second in 42 minutes 48 seconds. The American boat Ankledeep was third in 42 minutes 52 seconds, and the Disturber III, the other American entry, crossed the line in fourth place, her time being 43 minutes 24.5 seconds.

The French entry, Desperjans II., which yesterday won the first race for the trophy in 41 minutes 34 seconds today broke down during the fifth lap. The Maple Leaf IV, won the international trophy, better known as the Harmsworth cup for Great Britain, last year over a course on Huntington Bay, Long Island.

TOURING WEST.
Hamilton, Ont., Sept. 11.—Arrangements for the Tigers' western tour were completed at the meeting of the club executive when it was decided to reduce the number of games played to four, the following being the schedule decided upon: Sept. 26, Winnipeg; Sept. 23, Regina; Sept. 26, Moose Jaw; Sept. 27, Calgary.

HORSES TO ARRIVE EARLY NEXT WEEK

Everything Ready for Opening of Local Race Meet on September 20

"By next Monday we will have 200 horses stabled at the Willows, and immediately the fair closes, we will have about 250 more of the speediest animals in the west quartered at the local track," was the optimistic statement of Manager Fraser, of the Victoria Country Club, to the Times this morning with regard to the approaching nineteen-day race meet which is to start in the capital a week from Saturday. The workers at the track have been reinforced by a large gang of painters and decorators, who will renovate the entire plant. The stables and fences will be whitewashed, while the grandstand and private boxes will be fixed up and put in the best of shape for the coming meet.

Everything will be ready by the time the main body of horses arrive and the association will open a city office next Monday afternoon for the purpose of transacting the routine business. The entire Minoru list of race officials is expected for the Victoria meet, and the pari-mutuels are to be sent over next week, so that they may be installed for the Victoria opening.

It is expected by the organizers that this meeting will be the finest that Victoria has ever known and from the class of horses that have been entered, some exceptionally good racing may be looked for. The rich stakes and handicaps that have been hung up have attracted the best horse owners on the coast.

It has been decided to give each of the city bands one week at the track, and there will be plenty of music during the intermissions. ### PELKEY THROUGH WITH MANAGER

Tommy Burns Endeavors to Patch Up Differences; Champion Will Make Home Here

Arthur Pelkey has definitely decided to make his home in Victoria for the future. The heavyweight champion will bring his wife out from Chatham, Ont., next week and will reside with his uncle, Wm. Cassidy, of Strathberry, B.C., until he has selected a home in Victoria. He is sick and tired of travelling for a time and all that he now wants is absolute rest for a month or so before he begins training once more. He will not drop out of the fight game, but will likely look up with Morris Gordon and fight under the management of the Victoria sportsman.

Pelkey was kept busy answering telegrams last night from newspaper men all over the continent, and several from Tommy Burns. Pelkey is very reticent about his Portland statement and while he does not deny that he has broken with Burns, he is apparently waiting to hear from the latter as regards a settlement of their contract. One thing is certain, Pelkey will never fight under Burns' management again. The Canadian heavyweight states that he is through with Burns. Pelkey wired a Calgary newspaper last night that he had not broken with Burns to the extent that no settlement had been made.

A wire was received from Tommy Burns yesterday in which the latter tried to patch up the differences. Pelkey, naturally, is a much worried man these days and refuses to make another statement until he has settled with Burns. He will remain in Victoria for about a week before proceeding to Calgary for a short time.

How About This?—Calgary, Alta., Sept. 11.—Bruce Boreham, sporting editor of the Calgary Herald, is morning received the following wire from Arthur Pelkey: "I have not broken with Burns, but will be home in a few days."

The arrival of this wire has caused a good deal of curiosity here in view of Pelkey's statement to the Oregonian and his subsequent remarks about Burns in Victoria.

A wire from Calgary brings the information that Tommy Burns intends starting "wholesale actions" for libel against Pelkey, who used Pelkey's name in a Portland confession.

A Portland paper holds Pelkey's signed statement giving the confession. McIntyre's Statement.

Vancouver, Sept. 11.—"A clear case of run-out, because he was not in condition and was afraid to take a chance with Freddie Welsh," is the way Chet McIntyre, manager of the Brighthouse Arena, characterized Willie Ritchie's action in calling off his match with the British champion for the world's title. McIntyre said Ritchie, when he got off the boat at Seattle yesterday and had a long talk with the champion in an effort to induce him to change his mind, but without avail. Chet stuck to his guns and never let up in his endeavor to make the champion keep his engagement here.

"I couldn't get in condition in time, but I will come back later," was the best that Ritchie would say. Under the circumstances McIntyre is satisfied that the champion had about the severest attack of cold feet that any boxer prominent in the public eye has ever shown anywhere.

It was said by those in a position to know that Ritchie was really not in condition for a world's championship contest. He had worried so much over the arrangements for this contest that he had been unable to train. Ritchie naturally is a high-strung youth and all the squabbling which marked the signing of the articles had its effect on him.

Had Ritchie a manager things might have been different but he was no match for the astute Harry Folk. When it came to talking over the details, and he simply worried himself out of shape. It is said that the champion even called with the day white lights in an effort to seek relief in excitement from the strain of the match-making. While Harry Foley was nominally manager of Ritchie, the champion had all the say and Foley was really more of a companion than anything else.

GREER WILL MEET TORONTO OARSMAN

Boston, Sept. 11.—Frank B. Greer, former amateur sculling champion, is matched to row Eddie Durnan, of Toronto, champion of America, for the title and $1,000 a side on Toronto Bay on Saturday, September 27. Greer is being backed by William Haines, coach of the Union Boat Club, of Boston.

Should Greer beat Durnan, who last year was beaten by Ernest Barry on the Thames in England, Greer, accompanied by Paul Withington, will go to England early next year.

Greer will race against Barry, present world's champion, who has already announced his willingness to race against Greer. While Withington, who was a former Harvard varsity crewman, will try to win the diamond sculls at the annual Royal English Henley regatta in July.

Another professional race of interest will be the meeting of Jim Ryan, Jr., coach of the Duluth Boat Club, and John H. Hackett, of Minnesota, to take place in the Northwest this fall.

FRENCH BOAT WINS

London, Sept. 10.—The French motorboat Desperjons II. won yesterday the first race of the international motorboat trophy series in Osborne Bay. The winner finished the course of 22.4 miles in forty-one minutes and thirty-four seconds.

The Maple Leaf IV., a British entry, was second and Ankideep, America's champion motorboat, owned by Count Casimir S. Mankowski, of Lake George, finished third.

MOTORCYCLE NUMBERS.

Owners Must See That Figures Are Always Legible, on Pain of Fine.

N. W. Christie, owner of a motorcycle, was charged to-day with not having on his machine a plate bearing a legible number.

Constable Robert Foster, who was watching the safety of the school children at noon on the Yates street hill, noticed the defendant pass on his motorcycle and found that the figures were much defaced.

Christie pleaded guilty but complained that while cyclists pay $30 to the provincial government, the same as motorists, they get only one number plate to the two given a motor car. Since the constable drew the matter to his attention he has had the number painted on. According to him, the constant jarring of a motorcycle loosens the enamel.

The magistrate dismissed the case with a warning. He suggested that where numbers chip off owners could get the surface painted so as to bring the figures out, if they did not want to pay the two dollars required for a new plate.

CHILDREN'S DISEASES.

Dr. H. J. Wasson Confers With School Board on Report.

Dr. H. J. Wasson, the provincial health department's specialist in school children's health, visited the Victoria school board last night and conferred with the trustees upon the June report of children's diseases. He pointed out that in whomping cough, measles and one or two other diseases the percentage of children having these diseases under five years of age was in the neighborhood of 40, while the death rate was over 90 per cent. under five years. He considered that if the disease could be postponed until the child had reached the school age the mortality rate would be greatly reduced.

Dr. Donald pointed out that the school board had nothing to do with children until they were six years of age and that the city should deal with the matter. Dr. Wasson replied that the matter was of interest to the school board on account of the endeavor to postpone the disease and anyway that nothing but good could come of honestly viewing the circumstances.

A MESSAGE FROM A WOMAN TO WOMEN

"Every Woman Should Take 'Fruit-a-tives'"

Lakelet, Ont., May 12, 1911.

"Kindly publish this letter of mine if you think it will benefit other women. I have had in the past, but am now, thanks to 'Fruit-a-tives,' completely cured of. It is my firm belief that every woman should take 'Fruit-a-tives' if she wants to keep herself in good health."

"Before taking 'Fruit-a-tives' I was constantly troubled with what is commonly known as 'Nerves' or severe nervousness. This nervousness brought on the most violent attacks of Sick Headache, for which I was constantly taking doctors' medicine without any permanent relief. Constipation was also a source of great trouble to me and for which the doctors said 'I would have to take medicine all my life,' but 'Fruit-a-tives' banished all these troubles and now I am a well woman."

CHURCH OF ENGLAND LAITY WANT CHANGE

Catholic Privileges Are Sought by Several Members; Meeting Discusses Needs

The first step in a change which may prove of importance to the diocese of British Columbia, but which at present is in its most embryonic stage, was made in the holding of a meeting of several of the laity of the Church of England on Tuesday evening in the Theological hall.

The object of the meeting was to debate the desirability of co-operating in securing a centre in the city where Catholic privileges may be obtained. B. G. Walker presided in the chair, and outlined the purpose of the meeting, saying that the need of a Catholic centre in the city had been felt for some time past. The Protestant branch of the church had been given every facility for worship according to its belief, but the Catholic character of the church had been neglected. Those who had been brought up in the observance of the latter were entitled to consideration, and although there was no ill-feeling they wanted to ask for their rights as Catholics. It was the spirit that lay beneath the outward forms that they wished, and also, they intended to work in obedience under their bishop.

The difficulty, the speaker pointed out, was that they were uncertain if there were sufficient numbers in favor of the movement to support a priest and to see to the upkeep of the services. They wanted definite Catholic teaching, and to bring young and old into the Catholic fold. In reply to a question the chairman said that the bishop had not yet been appealed to, but that when the movement was brought about it would be with His Lordship's concurrence.

Resolutions as follows were passed: "That, in the opinion of this meeting of laity, it is expedient and desirable that steps should be taken towards securing our just rights as loyal members of the church, to full Catholic worship and teaching in conformity with the historic and apostolic character of the English branch of the one Catholic and Apostolic church."

"That, in order to prevent any ambiguity or misunderstanding, we hereby declare that the objects we desire are (inter alia) (1) Dignified Cantata, with incense, every Sunday as the principal service of the day; (2) that persons intending to make their communion at such service shall only do so after due notice to the priest, as required by the Prayer Book; (3) the use of a white bread and the mixed chalice; (4) six lighted candles on the re-table and Gospel and Epistle lights, and the use of full Eucharistic vestments at such principal service; (5) the provision of a priest who teaches and practices confession; (6) eastward position and other of the six points not already covered by the terms of this resolution."

"That, with a view to facilitating the attainment of the objects set forth in the second resolution, this meeting form itself into a society (with power to add to our number), to be known as 'The Catholic Society of Church of England Laity.'"

This was amended to the Anglo-Catholic Society. "That the officers of this society be appointed at the next meeting, and that they comprise president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, who shall, with three other members to be elected, form the executive committee. That, with the intention to include all lay members of the Church of England who may wish to co-operate with us by subscribing to the society's rules, this meeting stand adjourned till Tuesday next, September 16, at 8 p.m., at this hall, and that every member be requested to make known to fellow Catholics the objects of this society, so that a full representation of the Catholics of the city may be realized by next meeting, the time being ripe for immediate, prompt action."

FOUGHT TWENTY-ROUND DRAW.

San Francisco, Sept. 11.—Bob McAllister and Salter Petroskey fought a twenty-round draw here. This is their second battle within the last two months. The other bout was also declared a draw.

what she can do in the way of production. But Sir William thinks that attention should also be devoted to raising of cattle, breeding of horses, and the cultivation of mixed crops in general.

The C. P. R. party left this afternoon for the mainland. Upon reaching Vancouver they will entrain for Edmonton, from which point they purpose to make a thorough itinerary of western lines.

George Bury, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific railway, was with the party.

Yesterday evening the members of the party visited the local offices of the Canadian Pacific railway, and several of them went out on the reserve where they were shown the improvements which are going on there, the new buildings such as the round house, machine shops and turntable. Automobile rides throughout the city and environs filled up the rest of the party's time. This morning the party made a trip along the Esquimalt & Nanaimo line inspecting the various tunnels within easy reach of the city. They all left this afternoon on the 2:45 boat for Vancouver.

NO MEETING HELD.

Board of Trade Will Deal With Resolution for London Building.

Under ordinary circumstances the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Trade should have been held to-day. However, with President Shallice, Secretary Elworthy and others announcing that there is no business of sufficient importance to warrant a meeting being called, the event of anything of special importance turning up, a special meeting may be called at very short notice.

At its next meeting the Board of Trade will deal with the following suggested resolution: "That the Deminion government be memorialized to take such steps as may be necessary to establish in the city of London a Dominion building on similar lines to that about to be erected by the Commonwealth of Australia, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to all boards of trade in the Dominion asking their endorsement."

NEW PRIZES FOR PUPILS.

Typewriting, Essay Writing and Cadet Proficiency Are Contests to Be Held.

Three trophies for competition were placed at the disposal of the children of the public schools at last evening's meeting of the public school board.

The Navy League Chapter of Daughters of the Empire asked that the prize it decided to give early in July for the best essay by a school child between 12 and 18 years of age be given now and the board authorized Inspector Paul to make the necessary arrangements with Mrs. Roper for holding the contest. The board accepted also a shield from the British Campaigners' Association to be awarded to the most proficient cadet in Victoria, Esquimalt, Stanich and Oak Bay. H. B. Johnson is the donor of the third prize, a gold medal for the commercial class pupil who takes the highest standing in the examination on the typewriter at the end of the year.

One hundred per cent. economy in house as four adults.

MOTHER
SO POORLY

Could Hardly Care for Children—Finds Health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bovina Center, N. Y.—"For six years I have not had as good health as I have now. I was very young when my first baby was born and my health was very bad after that. I was not regular and I had pains in my back and was so poorly that I could hardly take care of my two children. I doctored with several doctors but got no better. They told me there was no help without an operation. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has helped me wonderfully. I do most of my own work now and take care of my children. I recommend your remedies to all suffering women." Mrs. WILLIAM A. GILMAN, Care of ELWORTH TUTTLE, Bovina Center, N. Y.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy known for women's ills. If you need such a medicine why don't you try it?

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham, Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

"CASCARETS" RELIEVE SICK, SOUR STOMACH

Move acids, gases and clogged waste from liver and bowels

Get a 10-cent box now.

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the stomach, nausea, bloating after eating, indigestion and sick headache, means a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any.

Try Cascarets; they immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended. A Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

SCRAP BOOK.
Grim War Has Inspired Many of World's Songs.

Grim war has been the inspiration of many of the world's most celebrated songs. The French national anthem, "The Marseillaise," was composed in a night in 1793 by Rouget-de-Lisle, a young officer, during the siege of Strasbourg. Germany's patriotic song, "Die Wacht am Rhein," was written in 1840, but it remained practically unknown until the Franco-Prussian war, when it became the Prussians' what—the "Marseillaise" was to France.

Even that most celebrated of drinking songs, "We Won't Go Home Till Morning," found its inspiration in war. The air was composed by an unknown French soldier after the battle of Malplaquet, which was fought 204 years ago to-day, Sept. 11, 1709. The French troops suffered severely in battle, and when night came a cold, drizzling rain and a shortage of food added to their discomfort. The trooper-composer wrote the song on a drumhead, and it was designed to cheer his stricken comrades. It immediately attained popularity and spread all over France, and thence to England and America. The French version is called "Malbrouk," while the English-speaking nations render it as "We Won't Go Home Till Morning" or "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." Both words and music are so simple as to be remembered by even the most befuddled toper, which perhaps accounts for its popularity as a drinking song.

"Yankee Doodle," the popular song of the American revolution, was composed during the civil war in England, and was originally "Nankee Doodle," which was one of the nicknames applied by the Cavaliers to Oliver Cromwell. The Puritans took the air to New England, and it was subsequently applied to the words of "Yankee Doodle." When Cromwell went to Oxford he rode a small horse, and wore "a single feather fastened in a macaroni knot." It was this circumstance that gave rise to the rhyme, "Nankee Doodle came to town, upon his little pony. Stuck a feather in his hat and called it macaroni."

During the American civil war the soldiers found inspiration in "Dixie," "John Brown's Body" and "Marching Through Georgia." In the South African war the English Tommies were wild over "The Absent-Minded Beggar."

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

Archbishop John Ireland, of St. Paul, one of the most distinguished of the Catholic churches of America, will be the recipient of congratulations to-day on his seventy-fifth birthday. The venerable religious leader has won the respect and affection of men of all creeds. His elevation to the Sacred College of Cardinals was long ago predicted, but as yet that honor has been withheld.

Born in the green isle the name of which he bears, on Sept. 11, 1838, John Ireland came to America in boyhood, and was educated at the Cathedral School in the Minnesota capital. He studied theology in France, and was ordained to the Roman Catholic priesthood in 1861. During the civil war he served as chaplain of the Fifth Minnesota regiment. After the war he became rector of the St. Paul cathedral. In 1875, just fourteen years to a day after entering the priesthood, he was consecrated bishop of Marquette and coadjutor to Bishop Thomas L. Grace. In 1884 he succeeded to the see of St. Paul, and in 1888 he was named archbishop.

The archbishop has always been outspoken in his opinions, and all his utterances command a large and respectful audience. On the occasion of the convention of the Federated Catholic Societies in Milwaukee last month Archbishop Ireland delivered one of the principal addresses, taking for his subject, "Catholicism and Americanism." The most alarming evil in America to-day, he asserted, "is the decay of religion, and in necessary sequence, the decay of morals. In both instances the cause of the decay is the enforced secularism of the state schools."

"Not against state schools as such do I raise objections, but as to the method in which they work—methods that, whatever the theory be, do in fact consecrate secularism as the religion of America."

FIRST THINGS

The first steamboat in western waters was the New Orleans, which started down the Ohio 102 years ago to-day. It travelled by a steam stage, stopping at the principal towns on the Ohio and Mississippi, and arrived in New Orleans and Hatches, inaugurating the once tremendous steamboat traffic of the Mississippi, which has been immortalized by Mark Twain, who was long a pilot on the "father of waters."

This pioneer craft was built by Nicholas J. Roosevelt, the great-grandchild of the twenty-fifth president of the United States, with the backing of Robert R. Livingston and Robert Fulton. For several years steamboat traffic was confined to the Ohio and the lower Mississippi, and it was not until 1817 that St. Louis was reached by a steam vessel. Mississippi steamboating reached its high-water mark between 1850 and 1870, and there was a time when the shore at St. Louis was lined for miles with steam craft. Steam navigation on the St. Lawrence began at about the same time as on the Mississippi, and a few years later the first of the fleets of steam vessels were launched along the Great Lakes.

The interior work on the new High School building is progressing at such a rapid pace that the board confidently expect to begin class work in it when school re-opens after the Christmas vacation. Already $272,951 has been paid out on the various contracts and the sums remaining to be paid for work not yet done total $123,123. The plastering and flooring throughout the building have been finished and the blackboards are up on the ground floor. The bricklayers are cleaning down the walls and pointing up, while the excavations for the cement steps leading to the various entrances have also been made.

NEW 4-ROOM SCHOOL
FOR JAMES BAY SITEBoard Takes Prompt Steps at First Meeting to Provide Needed Accommodation

J. C. M. Keith, architect, was asked by the school board last night to prepare plans at once for a new four-room school building at the site in James Bay adjoining Beacon Hill park. Figures of the over-crowding of the schools now serving this district were presented by the building and grounds committee as proof of the need, and the work was authorized almost without discussion.

In addition the building superintendent was instructed to prepare plans at once for brick manual training buildings for the Quadra street and Hollywood schools. The immediate need for schools in this district caused the committee to propose the erection of the manual training buildings before, instead of after, the school proper. They are to be designed in keeping with the schools themselves.

The Baptist church building at Quadra and Yates streets having proved unsatisfactory for the classes now being held there the board also accepted an offer from J. L. Rees to rent the old school room of St. John's church for $5 a month. A recommendation from the committee regarding this was opposed by Captain McIntosh as he had not been given an opportunity of going with the committee to look over the premises. Accordingly the communication from Mr. Rees was accepted, and the report tabled. The Baptist church was notified this morning.

Several manufacturers of patent goods offered their wares to the board last night, but only one firm, which wishes to equip one school with liquid wax, free of cost as a test, was given any encouragement. Trustee Dr. Hall, thought it would be well to permit this to be done as there was danger of skin disease infection from dirty chunks of soap. Other goods offered were a patent imitation stone, sanitary paper towels, and Columbia gramophones for the purpose of teaching music.

Reports on buildings under construction showed that the new High school was rapidly nearing completion. The Burnside school has one or two defects which the board will require to be righted before accepting the building. North Ward school was recently inspected by the boiler inspector, and one or two places in need of repair were pointed out in his report. The lavatory in the Gorge Jay school was also shown in a report to be in not very good condition. All these matters will be attended to by the board's orders.

On recommendation of the building and grounds committee, the board was instructed to order direct from the manufacturers Gamewell fire alarm equipment for the Burnside and Oaklands schools. The cost will be $1,400.

The purchase of four new typewriters for the commercial class was authorized providing the machines can be got for $50, the sum the board has always paid. Lamson street school of Esquimaux was granted the privilege of using the Victoria West manual training building until that at Lamson street is finished. The only new arrangement is that Lamson street classes will bring their own teacher instead of using the city's teacher. A number of extra supplies for the domestic science department were ordered at Miss Bowman's request. A request from the High school for some sporting equipment was referred to the sports association. The High school is not a member of this body, but the trustees expressed the opinion that it would receive fair treatment.

Misses Gower, Douglas, Scott, Stiff, Robertson, Alred, and MacNaughton were added to the teaching staff, and a number of increases in salary were passed according to schedule. Two resignations and a request for leave of absence were received and passed upon.

LETTER
BOX

Letters for publication in Daily Times must be received at the Times office not later than the day before the day of publication. When received later they will be held over until the following day.

While unobjectionable anonymous communications will be published, the name and address of every writer of such letters must be given to the editor.

"MIKE" EXPLAINS.

To the Editor:—I am sure you will allow me to at once correct a clerical error in my letter printed Monday in the Times. The word used in reference to military movements at Nanaimo was "contemplated," not "contemplable."

I would not like Colonel Hart (the real man at the wheel from first to last) to think "Michael O'Flaherty" is a fool.

MIKE O'FLAHERTY.

MR. FREEMAN'S LETTER.

To the Editor:—I was much interested in Mr. Freeman's letter of the 9th inst. He appears very sincere in his remarks, which rather betrays him as a believer in the Malthusian doctrine of the "survival of the fittest." That he is not an authority on present-day labor conditions is shown, wherein he says, "It is for the union to throw up their hands and let the owners employ others if they can at the price they are willing to allow." Experience has taught the miner that once he takes part in a strike he is blacklisted to all the mines in the district, for the mine owners have a much more powerful organization than he has, and are more effective along those lines, as they are dealing with units much weaker than themselves. The right to exist compels him to resort to picketing, etc.

That Mr. Freeman is not familiar with the act relating to the working of coal mines is evident when he says, "No legislature can compel men to join labor unions or any other union." The

Custom-Made
Tailored Suits a Specialty. We Guarantee a Perfect Fit

An Extraordinary Showing of the Foremost Styles in Fall Millinery, Suits, Coats and Accessories

This store has never had greater claims to its pre-eminence as an authority in style than in the distinctive modes which have been gathered for the Fall and Winter season. The representation is as authentic as it is comprehensive, and we place particular emphasis upon our style supremacy to our millinery. Apparel and piece goods sections than to the sections devoted to the least important dress accessories. Your inspection invited.

Stylish Coats for Fall and Winter
in Many Original Designs

A wide range of styles, patterns and materials to choose from, showing the very latest ideas from the world's fashion centres. These coats come in three-quarter and full-length models, in many original designs, entirely different from those in vogue last season. A great many of them showing modified cutaway fronts, others featuring a brought-in effect about the knees with perhaps a broad band around the lower edge holding in the fullness of the back; large buttons or ornamental frogs fasten the coats. The collars are of plush, velvet or self material. The prices will suit any purse as they range from $50.00 to $18.75.

—First Floor.

A Comprehensive Display of Fashionable New Fall Suits

Our Suits are creating an unusual amount of interest among the fashionably dressed woman or miss of Victoria, and no wonder, for never have we shown such a wonderful display of reasonable, authentic, beautiful Suits as now. Every new style is to be found from the very plain to the most elaborate models of which particular attention is directed to the new Stroller Suit—a Suit of mannish appearance with smart vest, and showing an audacious little slit at the side of skirt. Call in and inspect our stock when next down town, it is sure to interest you. Enticingly priced at from $75.00 down to $17.50.

A Foundation for Health
Grape-Nuts

Many people are half-sick because of wrong diet. White bread, rich meats, gravies and pastry put thousands into the "all-out-of-sorts" crowd.

If you feel "out-of-sorts" suppose you change food 10 days—and try Grape-Nuts

This food is a perfectly balanced ration made of whole wheat and malted barley, thoroughly cooked and ready to eat from the package. Digests easily—generally in about one hour.

Grape-Nuts contains all the rich nutrition of the grain, including the vital mineral salts (grown in the grain) which Nature designed for rebuilding muscle, nerve and brain cells. White bread is lacking in these salts.

A regular morning dish of Grape-Nuts and cream has brought rosy-cheeked, clear-brained health to thousands.

"There's a Reason"

Made by Canadian Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Windsor Ont.

said act allows for a committee of miners to report on the presence of gas in the mines, and in doing so throw the responsibility of gas inspection upon the miners, and is it not essential to their personal safety that their gas committee be backed up by the rest of the miners, and in what other way can this be done except by organization or "union"? This was brought out very strikingly in the Cumberland affair.

Mr. Freeman, like quite a number of others, must have his finger at the foreign agitator and Socialist, forgetting that while capital is international that labor has the same right to be so, and any one who has followed the case of the Wellington coal mines caused the death of sixty others, while about nine years ago thirty miners perished at Estabrook from the same cause, gas, and the greed for larger dividends. And in no instance were these mine owners called upon to answer for the cause of death on their premises, but, to the contrary, became fit subjects for knight-hood. One of the truths which come home to us on the result of the strike in that property to-day is held more sacred than human lives.

Victoria, Sept. 8, 1913. H. McE.

THE POPULAR CANDIDATE

Bernal Osborne once amused the House of Commons in London with an account of his adventures at a Waterford election. After telling how he fled down the street and took refuge in his hotel, he described how the house was besieged by an angry mob, and how he was obliged to escape through a window, over the roof, and to hide in a cistern. Then, turning to the speaker, he said, "and remember, Mr. Speaker, I was the popular candidate."

A PRETTY EVENT.

Miss Lily G. Cox and Mr. J. McNair Paterson Are Wed; Will Live Here.

The marriage of Lily Gertrude, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Cox, of Tuxedo park, Saanich, and John McNair, third son of Mr. and Mrs. David Paterson, of Clyde Bank, Scotland, which was solemnized on Monday last at the Centennial Methodist church, Gorge road, was one of interest, and a large number of the friends of the happy pair gathered to witness the ceremony.

Rev. James Green, pastor of the church, officiated, the bride being given away by her father. Dressed in ivory satin with silk lace and pearl trimmings, she looked particularly charming, while the effect was enhanced by the soft veil of white tulle embroidered with silk, and wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses, sweet peas, and asparagus fern, and was attended by Miss E. Hodges, who made a pretty bridesmaid in a dress of pale green crepe-de-chene with girde of black velvet and bouquet of white marguerites and asparagus fern.

Little Winnifred L. Campbell, wearing a dress of white embroidery with Dresden ribbon sash, and carrying a bouquet of pink and white sweet peas, made a dainty flower girl. Mr. Charles Cumming acted as best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Charles Campbell, Anderson street, where the many friends of the happy pair assembled to wish them happiness. Among the many beautiful gifts received by the bride and bridegroom was a handsome clock presented by the staff of Copas & Young, Mr. Paterson being an employee of the firm. On their return to the city Mr. and Mrs. Paterson will take up their residence at Swan street, Saanich.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

It added greatly to the difficulties of Colonel Cornwallis, founder of Halifax and governor of Nova Scotia, that amongst the colonists he had brought out were some extraordinarily rough and lawless. These men, even when mustering all possible strength for defence against the threatened attacks of the savages, he did not care to trust with arms in their hands. Within a very few weeks of the arrival of the vanguard of the immigrants in the harbor of Chebucto occurred the first trial for a capital offence in the new colony. Peter Cartel had killed Abraham Goodside, the boatman's mate of the Beaufort, by stabbing him, and had also wounded two other men. The governor and council sat as a general court to try him, the culprit, on September 11, 1749, and "a grand jury found him guilty of murder, and he was hanged under a warrant from the governor" two days later. There was a tradition that a large tree was used instead of a gallows in the earliest years of Halifax. This unhappy child of the forest stood near the market square.

On this date, the 11th of September, in 1759, the British troops under Wolfe went on board their ships to begin the brief voyage that, for their gallant commander, was to end in victory and death. The soldiers, some in sloops, some in frigates, others in flat-bottomed boats, knew that the hour for action was upon them. Wolfe, in the cabin of the Sutherland, wrote his last orders to his men. He pointed out the divisions in the Canadian army, the discontent among the peasantry, the departure of Lewis for Montreal, and underlined the significant sentence, "A vigorous blow struck by the army at this juncture may determine the fate of Canada." On the following night, when the British fleet gilded silently down the river, under the dark shadows of the overhanging banks, Wolfe, standing in the bow of his boat, repeated over and over to his comrades the stanza from Gray's Elegy, which had been published but a few years before.

The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power,
And all that beauty, all that wealth e'er gave,
Await alike the inevitable hour;
The paths of glory lead but to the grave.
A copy of Gray's Elegy, believed to have belonged to General Wolfe, was recently discovered. Annotations in Wolfe's handwriting have convinced experts of the genuineness of the find. The story of the general's recitation of the Elegy and his remark, "I would sooner have written that poem than take Quebec," has long been a subject of controversy, but the best literary testimony is on the side of Augustine Birrell, who declared that its truth was proved as conclusively as human testimony could prove anything.

NEW ESQUIMALT EDIFICE

To-day it becomes the home of the congregation which has worshipped for two years in hall at corner of Esquimalt Road and Constance Avenue.

METHODIST CHURCH OPENED IN ESQUIMALT

New Edifice Has Modern Equipment; Sunday School Dedicated; Banquet

The Methodist church has strong faith in the future of Esquimalt, and during the last few months it has given to the district one of the most pretentious and modern of churches on the coast.

It is only about two years ago that the Methodist church was able to set apart a hall to hold its services and religious need of this community which includes the men of the naval ships stationed here. But in that time there has been ample proof of the wisdom of the appointment for there has been built up a congregation of no mean reputation.

For the last two years the services have been held in a hall at the corner of Esquimalt road and Constance avenue, but this afternoon the congregation moves into its handsome new quarters situated at the corner of Admiral's road and Loyal street.

The edifice is after the designs of Freeman and Durfee, architects of this city, and for its outward appearance and its internal arrangements it will vie with some of the elaborate and expensive structures of greater pretensions. It has an auditorium which will seat 350 people, while its balcony will accommodate some 75 more. It is well lighted and ventilated, and is equipped with a splendid heating system of warm air. The main approach is from Admiral's road, while from Loyal street, and on the ground level, is a magnificent school plant comprising one large assembly room measuring 42x32, a spacious lobby, and nine large self-contained rooms which will be used for classrooms. In addition there is a large-sized kitchen with every appointment, and all the other modern conveniences.

At the rear of the main auditorium of the church are two large rooms which will accommodate the pastor and the choir. Provision is also made

BALL GROUND SIGNS

Painter Sues Manager of the Park for Work; Question of Quality Raised.

Judge Lampman has the task of deciding whether or not the paint used by the Manser Sign Company to decorate the fence of the ball grounds with advertising signs was of a class that did not merit the designation of the job as a good one.

The firm is suing Eddie Gleason, manager of the grounds, for the amount of its account for the work done last spring. Mr. Gleason is contesting it on the ground that the work was not well done, that he had to have some of it repainted, and that advertisers are refusing to pay him the amounts agreed upon on the score of the advertisements not being up to what they expected.

Percy L. Manser and George H. Lang, the members of the firm, were heard yesterday afternoon in support of their claim. They asserted that the work they had done was very good for the price, admitting in cross-examination that they had fixed the price themselves and were satisfied with it.

J. Carl Pendray explained that the paint with which the signs were done was what is known as cold water paint, and that one of the features of this is that after a rain it causes the surface to look like a concrete walk, and this darkening renders the lettering not so legible until it dries off again. George Meyer considered it a remarkably good job for the money, and said that with the very best of materials the life of a sign was about six months. George Meyer thought it very good for the class of work. He could read any of the signs from one end of the field to the other.

Eddie Gleason declared that he had paid last year two and one-half cents a square foot for the painting of the signs at the ball grounds and got a better and more lasting job than he did this year for three and one-half cents a foot. Four of the signs, he said, he for the ultimate insertion of a pipe organ as soon as that is obtainable.

The opening services this afternoon were formed on a slightly different order from those usually followed.

The doors were formally opened by Horace J. Knott and the dedicatory sermon preached by Rev. W. J. Sippell, D. D., late principal of Columbian College, and now pastor of Mount Pleasant church, Vancouver. Later the school doors were opened by Miss Sara Spencer, and Noah Shakespeare conducted the dedicatory services.

The inauguration banquet will be served at 6 o'clock, after which Dr. Sippell and local ministers will speak. A splendid programme of instrumental and vocal music is arranged to entertain the public during the proceedings.

The opening services will be continued over three Sundays, at the first of which the Rev. Eber Crumby, D. D., late of Winnipeg, and now of Vancouver, will be the preacher, while the Rev. A. E. Hetherington, of Columbian College, will preach on Sunday, September 21, and lecture on September 22.

had to have repainted, and many others had to be touched up to keep them from running off the boards altogether. In all he had spent about $300 in this way. He had found it impossible to collect from some of the advertisers, who claimed that the painting was so poor that the worth of the advertisement was depreciated.

The case was not finished when the court rose for the day.

SET DANGER SIGNS

Automobile Association Orders 250; Drop Holmes' Appeal; New Members Admitted.

Danger signs to the number of 250 will be received by the Automobile Association as a result of its action at the meeting Tuesday evening. When the members heard the letter from the Lovell-McConnell Manufacturing Company, in which it offered to supply danger signs for the association, they decided to order 250, to be forwarded free of cost. It has not been stated yet where the signs will be erected, but it is expected they will soon be found at numerous points where motorists could benefit by warnings.

The sign at the summit of the Malahat drive, according to the report submitted by Mr. Bannerman, is being erected by the provincial government.

The secretary stated that the work on road signs, remitted to the road signs committee at the last meeting, was being taken up by Mr. Mellor, Letters from the Ontario Motor League and the Vancouver Automobile Club were considered and filed.

It was decided that the Holmes' appeal should be dropped by the solicitor of the association.

Ten new members were added.

SUNDAY LAWS WHICH ARE IN FORCE HERE

Enactments of Charles, Henry and William Which Can Be Invoked

It having been decided by the chief justice of British Columbia that the old English laws which governed the observance of Sunday before confederation are and always have been applicable to Vancouver Island as well as to the mainland, as a result of the lack of authority in the legislature to make the exception of this part of the province that was made in 1883, it will be of interest to Victorians to know what they cannot do under the statutes of Charles and of Henry in which that law is embodied.

The principal legislation in the matter is the act passed in the twentieth year of the reign of Charles II, "an act for the better observation of the Lord's Day, commonly called Sunday, one section of which was quoted yesterday. This starts off by enacting that all laws in force in that regard shall be carefully put in execution.

Every person is required to exercise himself on that day in the duties of piety and true religion, publicly, and privately; tradesmen and artificers are forbidden to do any worldly labor or to follow their ordinary callings, and on pain of forfeiture of their wages no one shall publicly cry, show forth or expose for sale any merchandise or chattels.

As to Travelling.

It is an offence for any person or persons to travel upon the Lord's Day with any boat, ferry, lighter or barge, except it be upon extraordinary occasion. The judge of the exigency of the circumstances is to be a justice of the peace, "or other head officer." Needless to say, steamboats, railway trains and motor cars were not in use in the time of Charles, which probably accounts for their not being mentioned. No driver, horse-drawn, wagoner, butcher, higger or any of their servants is allowed to travel or to come into their inn or lodging.

An exception is made in that the act is not to extend to the prohibition of the dressing of meat in families, or dressing or selling of meat in inns, cooks' shops or victualling-houses, for such as cannot otherwise be provided; nor to the crying or selling of milk before nine of the clock in the morning or after four of the clock in the afternoon.

Prosecutions under the act must be brought within ten days of the commission of the alleged offences. In Charles' day if the defendant was not able to pay the fine and distress upon his goods and chattels did not realize enough to satisfy this he could be "put publicly in the stocks by the space of two hours."

At that time the inhabitants of a hundred were answerable in damages to any person robbed within their bounds; but this act saved them from such action in the case of any person robbed while travelling on Sunday.

Effect on Hunting.

The hunting season is at hand, and it will be of importance to hunters to know that under an act of the first year of William IV., passed on October 5, 1831, it is an offence punishable with a fine of 55 to hunt, kill or take any game on Sunday, or to use any dog, gun, net or other "engine" for that purpose. More than that this prohibition extends to Christmas Day, upon which hundreds of Victorians have always sought the covert.

The earliest legislation still in force in England and in British Columbia in relation to the observance of Sunday dates from 1625, and is the first act passed in the reign of Charles I. Its preamble sets forth that the kingdom had been profaned and that many quarrels, bloodsheds and other inconveniences had grown by the resort and concourse of people going out of their own parishes to "such disordered and unlawful exercises and pastimes as bear-baiting, bull-baiting, interludes, common plays and other unlawful exercises and pastimes," to the neglect of divine service both in their own parish and elsewhere. It is ordered, therefore, that every person so offending shall pay three and fourpence to the poor of the parish. There was a month's limitation of the initiation of an action in this case, and the term in the stocks for non-payment of fine was three hours.

Should Not Travel.

Two years later it became necessary to enact that "as Sunday is much broken and profaned by carriers, wagoners, carters, wainmen, butchers and drovers of cattle." It was expedient that none of these classes should travel on that day with any horses, wagons, carts, wains or cattle, on pain of a fine of twenty shillings. Butchers killing or selling on that day are guilty and liable to a fine of six and eightpence.

These laws are far more honored in the breach than the observance in the old land, but they are none the less still as much the law as any act passed at the last session of parliament.

How to Keep Face Young and Attractive

(National Hygienic Review.)

The way to ward off old age is not to fear it, not to allow one's self to be oppressed by the dread of advancing years. Use only legitimate preventives, and avoid trying experiments with preparations not endorsed by physicians. An entirely safe and very effective way to keep the complexion young-looking and beautiful is to apply ordinary mercuric oxide at bedtime, using it like cold cream, washing it off in the morning. This gradually absorbs the withered, faded cuticle, which is replaced by the more youthful, pink-tinted under-skin. One ounce of this wax, to be had at any drug store, is enough to completely rejuvenate a worn-out complexion. Crow's feet and other wrinkles, the first signs of advancing age, may be removed by a simple, harmless preparation made by dissolving an ounce of powdered salicylic acid in a half-pint of witch hazel. It is used as a face bath.
